

IKE CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS OPEN TONIGHT

Airplanes showering Pottstown with leaflets, girls pinning "Ike" buttons on High street pedestrians and a motorcade beginning at High street and Moser road at 8 o'clock tonight will mark the formal opening of the Citizens Committee for Eisenhower headquarters at the Merchants hotel.

Pennsylvania's Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood will set the machinery of the headquarters in motion with a short talk tonight from a flat-top truck outside the hotel. Ceremonies will be held across street from the hotel at the Elks ballroom if the weather is inclement.

Early this afternoon, airplanes will circle the borough and send 25,000 leaflets announcing the ceremonies fluttering to the ground.

After the borough schools close for the day, 12 High school girls will circulate along High street, pinning "Ike" buttons on passersby. The buttons will be handed out until the motorcade arrives at campaign headquarters.

WOOD AND his wife will be met at High street and Moser road at 8 p. m. and the cavalcade of automobiles will proceed along High street to the accompaniment of a band on a truck, leading the State official through the borough.

William H. Yohn, school director and chairman of the Eisenhower committee, announced that the ward captains appointed to work for the Republican campaign will be introduced at the celebration, so persons in the wards will know whom to consult when problems arise or when they have services to offer to the campaign.

Those who will captain the wards are: West Ward, Paul R. Anderson and George E. Stroup; Second

'DIRTIEST LIE' IS CHARGED TO SEN. MCCARTHY

LAS VEGAS, Nev. Oct. 14 (AP)—A Las Vegas publisher accused by Sen. Joe McCarthy (R. Wis.) of being "an admitted ex-Communist" today swore out an affidavit denying the charge.

"It's the dirtiest lie McCarthy ever told," said Herman M. Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun, after the two men tangled verbally at a Republican meeting last night.

Greenspun said he was publishing on the Sun's front page tomorrow morning an affidavit swearing he is not and never has been a Communist, nor consorted with Communists and fellow travelers. The publisher said he is offering $1000 to anyone who can disprove one word of the affidavit.

McCarthy, the object of a pointed column by Greenspun yesterday labeled the published "one who sports all the mouthings of the Daily Worker." The senator told the audience that Greenspun

Wounded in Korea

Lt. Bob Martz, 22, former Pottstown Senior High school star athlete who was wounded while fighting with United Nations forces in Korea, is shown in uniform while a ROTC cadet at Pennsylvania Military college, Chester. Photos below show him in football and basketball uniforms when he starred on the Senior High school teams.

Lt. Bob Martz, Pottstown Athlete, Is Seriously Wounded in Korea

A former Pottstown Senior High school star athlete was seriously wounded in Korean fighting, his sister reported yesterday.

Mrs. Franklin J. Birchfield, 1290 High street, said the family had recently received an official telegram notifying them that Lt. Bob Martz, 22, "was seriously wounded by mortar fire" and had listed the extent of the injuries as to the head, arm and hand.

A later letter from the young Army lieutenant, dated Oct. 10, read, "Please don't worry about me. I am in a hospital in Tokyo and the only trouble seems to be with my hearing."

Mrs. Birchfield said the letter dispelled many of the family's fears since it indicated that he was not blinded and still had the use of his right hand.

MARTZ, A 1947 Pottstown Senior High school graduate, starred on the basketball and football teams here and also played on the varsity baseball team.

While in high school, he played three years of varsity basketball, becoming the captain of the team in his senior year. He distinguished himself in football by holding down the regular quarterback position in his Junior and Senior years, and by being a starting player on the

POLICE PLEDGE CLOSE CHECK IN DROWNING

"A complete investigation is being conducted" by Pottstown police of reports that John Prutzman, homeless 61-year-old man whose body was found in a mill race near South Hanover street, may have been the victim of foul play.

This was reported yesterday by Plainclothesman Lewis M. Borgiet, who participated in the original investigation into Prutzman's death the day his body was discovered the past Sept. 12.

The plainclothesman made this report following Monday's disclosure by Mrs. John Morton, 70 High street, a sister of Prutzman's, that she had been told that a man who was well acquainted with Prutzman had pushed him into the mill race, apparently after a quarrel.

Borgiet said that in the original investigation, no evidence of foul play had been found. He added firmly: "Everybody who has a rumored connection with it (his death) will be questioned. We want to have the case so that everyone will be satisfied."

BECAUSE NO evidence was found pointing at foul play, not all the men who could have information about Prutzman's death were questioned at the time, Borgiet said, but this gap will be closed in the re-investigation.

If any evidence of foul play is

Pleasant Weather Too Good to Last

The return of Spring Monday and yesterday was appreciated while it lasted, but, like all good things, it isn't staying.

Doubtless everyone in the Pottstown area enjoyed the balmy breezes, warm sun and 70-plus degree temperatures. The only disappointing outlook of such unlooked-for weather is that it is the legendary lull before the storm.

The weatherman said last night that the area's Spring-like weather will be dissipated today by some clouds and a slightly cooler atmosphere.

Tomorrow, he added, we can expect more clouds and some showers mixed with cool air.

The ministers who will return to the borough for the service are the Rev. Rufus E. Kern, retired, of Kutztown; the Rev. Norman Kindt, Troy, N. Y., and the Rev. Francis R. Daugherty of Wilkes-Barre.

The original hymn was composed by Ralph W. Berkey. It is entitled, "A Thousand Years as Yesterday." The original tune has been entitled, "Hereford."

The services will mark the 100th anniversary of the original building, the brick meeting house, which still is in use, now as the Sunday school room.

DEVOTIONS END AT ST. ALOYSIUS IN PROCESSION

(Picture on Page 8)

A solemn procession of flower girls and men of St. Aloysius Catholic church marked the end of the annual 40 hours devotions there last night.

The closing service was attended by more than 800 persons and about 15 priests from the Pottstown area, Philadelphia and Reading.

The 30-hour period of prayer began the past Sunday morning. It commemorates the 40 hours Christ spent in the tomb.

Closing devotions were conducted by the Rev. Dennis Corbett, rector of St. Ann's church, Phoenixville.

DEACON WAS the Rev. Francis A. Donovan, former assistant rector at St. Aloysius and now assistant rector at Holy Trinity Catholic church, Morrisville.

Sub-deacon was the Rev. Tosello Giangiacomo, a former member of St. Aloysius's parish and presently on vacation from Puerto Rico, where he is a member of the Holy Ghost fathers.

School Board to Ask Government What It Plans for Hilldale

Lower Pottsgrove school board will ask the Federal Housing authority what its plans for Hilldale are so the board "won't be left holding the bag."

Board President Francis Donnon said last night the school district "will be affected regardless of what FHA plans are."

If Hilldale is razed, he said, most of the families probably will leave the township and the elementary school will be left with one room vacant.

If the low-rent project remains, he continued, the board will have to consider the construction of at least one additional room to house an increase in pupils from Hilldale.

DONNON SAID 137 of 643 First through 12th grade pupils in the township live in Hilldale. A pre-school census made this past Summer indicates 55 more Hilldale children will begin school next year and 39 the following year, he said.

If the Government is not going to raze the project, Donnon said, "We'll have to plan on building another room."

The school's homerooms will be reduced from 15 to 12 if the project is razed, the president claimed.

The board moved to boost the cost of Class A lunches from 18 cents to 20 as of Nov. 1 because of "the terrific increase in the cost of food."

At the September board meeting, the solicitor or I will send a letter along with the resolution."

OFFER OF STOWE FIRM ACCEPTED BY FLAGG UNION

Employees of Pottstown Metal Products plant, Grosstown road, Stowe, last night unanimously accepted a new contract.

Clarence Matz, president of Flagg Local 2326, United Steel Workers (CIO), negotiator of the new pact, said the 76 plant employees would receive an 8-cent, across-the-board increase.

The old contract expires tonight. The new pact provides employees be paid for all holidays including those which fall on Saturdays.

The old agreement provided for paid holidays except when they occurred on Saturdays.

Matz said the contract was the third negotiated by Local 2326 with the Metal Products division.

Approximately 90 percent of the plant's union membership attended last night's session in St. John's Falcon A.C. Union and management representatives "talked terms" of

Council's Resolution On Hilldale to Be Sent to US Agency

A copy of the council resolution requesting Hilldale be made available for residents until other housing can be secured will be sent to the US Public Housing authority in the near future.

Either Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden or Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells will send a letter of explanation along with the resolution.

J. Wayne Knause, Seventh ward councilman, requested the resolution at Monday's session because of the PHA's decision to close the low-rent housing unit.

The Montgomery County Housing authority reported it cannot take over the 27-building development because it cannot afford the expense of fire escapes demanded by the State Bureau of Labor and Industry.

Gulden said last night, "Either the solicitor or I will send a letter along with the resolution."

VEHICLE TURNS OVER ON ROAD

Two Philadelphia men escaped with minor injuries at dusk yesterday afternoon when their red laundry truck cut down a telephone and electric pole and somersaulted to a dusty stop along Route 422, Limerick.

Dazed and bleeding, William Kluska, 27, Philadelphia, the driver, and Lewis Bowman, 45, Philadelphia, limped away from the crunched truck which stopped on its roof one-quarter mile east of Lakeside Inn, Limerick, on the south side of Route 422.

The two men were rushed to Memorial hospital by Frederick L. Baker, Rosedale drive.

Raker said, "They were suffering from shock and sorta groggy. On the way to the hospital one of the men said the same thing had happened to him once before."

"They were both on their feet when I picked them up. They had to be thrown clear of the truck before it stopped or both would have been killed. There wasn't enough room in the cab for a man to live."

"I got there right after it happened. All I saw was a cloud of dust and wires down on the road."

KLUSKA WAS treated for multiple cuts of arms and legs and a deep cut of the right elbow.

Bowman was treated for cuts of the scalp and of the right ankle. Both men were discharged.

The accident occurred at approximately 5:50 o'clock.

Paul Freed, Route 422 Limerick, an eye witness to the crash said, "I was driving east on 422 just at the top of the hill (intersection of 422 with Church road) when this truck passed me."

"It was really moving and right after it passed I noticed the back end swaying and I said to myself, well, those guys might be in for trouble. For a couple of seconds I forgot the truck, then I saw this," he asserted as he gestured at the wrecked vehicle.

The truck clipped off the pole

Hearing Scheduled Tomorrow for Fans Involved in Fracas

Pottstown fans arrested the past Friday night during an altercation with police at the Pottstown-Norristown High school football game will be given a hearing at 2:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

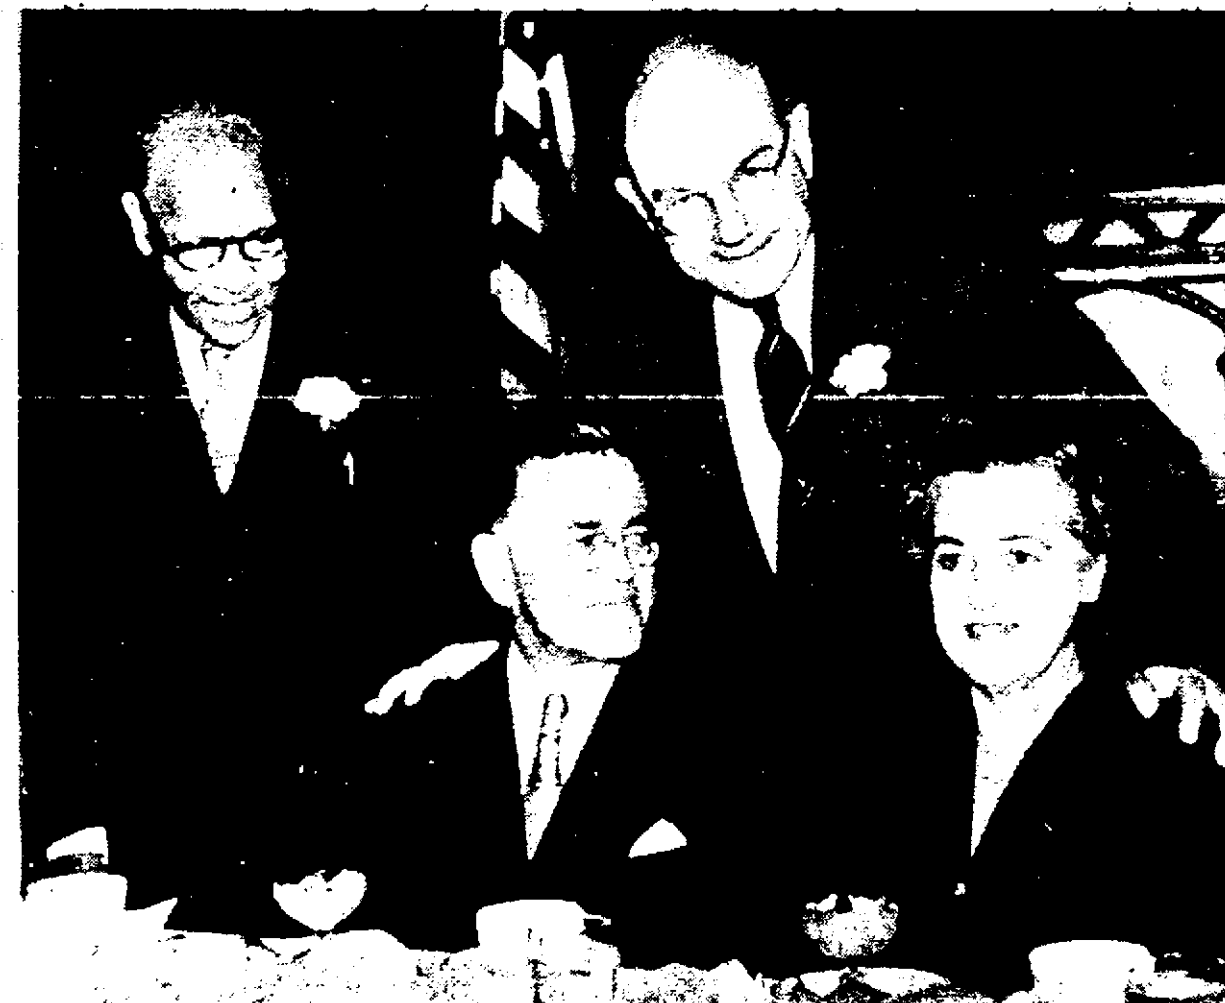

Louis Sager, Pottstown attorney for the men, Edmund Kupecki, 24, of 8 West Fifth street, and Michael Stepien, 21, of 510 Lincoln avenue, disclosed the hearing date last night.

The hearing will be before Justice of the Peace Charles J. Gorman in Norristown city hall. The men are charged with assault and battery, inciting a riot and obstructing justice.

A further hearing was scheduled tentatively for yesterday morning when the defendants could not post bail at a preliminary hearing Friday, but the hearing was postponed until tomorrow, according to Gorman's office.

Kupecki and Stepien were released from Montgomery county prison the past Saturday afternoon when they were able to post bail.

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

—Mercury Staff Photo

This home of Mrs. Elsie Fox, 898 North Washington street, has a surprisingly large amount of room inside considering its rather snug appearance. Downstairs are a living room (at right), a television room, dining room, kitchen and powder room. Upstairs are two large bedrooms and a bath. There is a utility room adjoining the rear of the garage. Mrs. Fox has her laundry and heater there, since there is no basement. The bricks are multi-shaded, from solid red to a bluish tint. The sides and back of the home are gray shingling. The home was built a year and a half ago by Kerstetter and Veach. The furnishings include Oriental rugs and an Oriental desk with brass trimmings that she bought in China in the 1930's when her husband, Lt. Col. Daniel R. Russell Fox, was stationed there. Colonel Fox was killed on Dec. 7, 1951, at Pearl Harbor while aboard the battleship "Arizona." Mrs. Fox lives with her 15-year-old son, Daniel R. Fox.

State Presents as Murder Motive, Story Of Man 'Hopelessly in Love' With Woman

BALTIMORE, Oct. 14 (P) — The State told a story today of a man "hopelessly in love" with another woman and offered it as the motive in the bizarre killing of Mrs. Dorothy May Grammer.

George Edward Grammer, 35-year-old New York office manager, was put on trial charged with his wife's murder.

State's Attorney Anselm Sodaro identified the other woman as 28-year-old Mathilda Mizibrocky, a Canadian employed at United Nations headquarters in New York. Then he told the court:

"Letters from the defendant to Miss Mizibrocky will be offered in evidence, which clearly indicate that Grammer was hopelessly in love with her and that he intended to marry her."

Mrs. Grammer, 35-year-old mother of three children, was found in her car—a $3000 gift from her husband—about 12:30 a.m., Aug. 20. She was pronounced dead at a hospital.

THE CASE was first reported as a traffic accident. Investigation resulted in the filing of a murder charge against Grammer less than two weeks later.

The prosecution contends Mrs. Grammer was bludgeoned to death and the automobile crash staged to disguise the slaying as an accident.

In his opening statement, Sodaro said Grammer had "made certain and positive admissions concerning this killing" to two police officers. The State's attorney added, "These admissions will be offered in evidence."

Miss Mizibrocky had not been officially identified until Sodaro made his opening statement. When she testified before the Baltimore city grand jury, she was listed as the "woman in the red hat." Her relatives live in Hamilton, Ontario.

Judge Herman M. Moser is trying the case without a jury. He was told by Sodaro the State will show that Grammer and Miss Mizibrocky fell in love after a chance meeting the past November in a New York bowling alley.

The State's attorney said he will prove the couple stayed as man and wife at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago from the past July 25 to Aug. 4.

The trial attracted wide interest as it got under way, especially among women.

But few got inside the courtroom, which seats only 160 persons.

Grammer, round-faced and balding, was dressed in a dark suit, white shirt and black necktie.

For the first time in history of the Baltimore courthouse, colored slides of a victim were shown. They showed the dead woman's bruised and battered head.

As Grammer saw the sudden appearance of his wife's head, he buried his face momentarily in a handkerchief which he had been twisting in his hands.

Resolution Is Adopted To Break With Reds

LUCCA, Italy, Oct. 14 (P) — Socialist sources said here today that a group of 50 leaders of the pro-Communist Socialist party (PSI) adopted a motion Sunday demanding that their leaders break their ties with Moscow and the communist form.

The pro-Communist Socialists are headed by Stalin peace prize winner Pietro Nenni, who led the wing away from the Socialists in 1947, and threw their support to the Communists.

The informants said the 50 who adopted the motion demanding denunciation of the 1947 agreement with the Italian Communists included two pro-Communist Socialist deputies in the Italian chamber of deputies. The 50, whose names were withheld by the informants, are from about 30 Italian cities, including Milan and Lucca.

IT UPROOTED a mail box, then slipped into the air like the car of a state fair acrobat. With a crunch of metal the truck flattened on the gravel south side of the highway in a swirl of dust.

The red vehicle was pointed westward on 422 when the dust settled. The battery was tossed free and rested several feet in front of the smashed front end.

The red doors on the back of the truck were open and dozens of coveralls tied in bundles were thrown along the edge of the road.

The truck, a late-model panel type vehicle, was owned by the Baldwin cleaners, Philadelphia.

Passing motorists' and residents in the vicinity armed with flashlights directed heavy early evening traffic around the scene of the accident before State police arrived.

The accident took place on the narrowing bottle neck of Route 422 at the bottom of a short hill, midway between Lakeside Inn and the old Washington school.

One resident said the accident was the 10th at the bottleneck since 1946.

Korea War Veterans Will Receive Benefits

HARRISBURG, Oct. 14 (AP) — Pennsylvania's Korean War Veterans become eligible tomorrow for up to 326 a week for six months in unemployment benefits.

A. J. Caruso, executive director of the State Employment Security bureau, said he expected no rush or other problems that followed the World War II "GI bill of rights."

"After World War II," Caruso said, "we had a mass demobilization and a very bad employment situation. It put a terrific load on the readjustment program. We don't expect anything like that now on the basis of present conditions."

Veterans must file for the benefits at their local employment service offices and fulfill requirements specified by the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation law, Caruso said.

The requirements include registering for a job placement, being able to work and being available for employment.

Howard Wiltrauf, East Greenville, the only surviving member of the Red Hill borough council which applied 50 years ago for articles of incorporation, will occupy a prominent position in a parade down Main street at 2 p. m. Saturday which will climax the observance.

Pennsburg, East Greenville and Green Lane borough officials will participate in the parade, which will include many industrial and civic organization floats.

Fire companies and their auxiliaries of the four boroughs, accompanied by musical units, will be in the line of march. The Upper Perkiomen Joint High school band will head a long line of Upper Perkiomen valley school children.

The Perkiomen VFW post and its auxiliary, Boy and Girl Scout units and the Perkiomen American Legion post also will be in the parade.

New Arrival 3 Plays Considered By Reperory Group

The Pottstown Repertory group considered three productions at its monthly meeting last night in the YWCA in an attempt to select one to be staged in February.

None of the plays was chosen but the group agreed to discuss the productions at the next meeting.

Presiding at the meeting attended by 30 members was Donald Weller, president of the group.

Other officers present were Mrs. George Berman, recording secretary; Harry A. Lord, vice president, and Mrs. Marilyn Hochschwender, corresponding secretary.

After the business session a square dance was held in the YWCA auditorium with William Morrell calling. His wife assisted.

Friday night there will be a meeting of the board of directors of the group.

Oil Industry Deal 'Woman in Chester Blow by Investigation Seeks State Senate Position as Write-in

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP) — A "serious blow" has been struck at the entire oil industry by the current Justice department investigation of an alleged international oil cartel P. C. Spencer, president of Sinclair Oil corporation, said today.

At an oil progress week luncheon Spencer called the cartel probe a blow not only to the five American companies directly involved but to all other companies, large or small, who have any hopes or ambitions of developing foreign oil production and reserves or engaging in any other phase of the oil business in foreign lands.

The company which Spencer heads was not cited by the Justice department in its request for a grand jury investigation of alleged price fixing and other cartelistic practices involving marketing of Middle Eastern oil.

Smaller companies will be adversely affected too, Spencer said, because of the risks of developing oil properties and doing business in foreign lands are already tremendous without having our own Government apply to the bellowing Committee for Property Rights to the flames.

Mrs. Jean Bullitt Darlington, well known Chester county resident, formally announced that she would run as a write-in candidate for the State senate, at a luncheon held yesterday by the Independent Republicans for Chester county.

Mrs. Darlington asserted that she would seek votes by taking a stand against centralization of power in government—county, state or national, seeking to decrease taxes and proposing amendments to the new State property assessment law recently put into effect in Chester county.

She also stated that she would oppose all legislation which forces unreasonable expenditures on the people without their consent, and that she would investigate all special interest legislation.

Mrs. Darlington, who lives in the Pymonia Hill West Chester, is a member of the Chester county Committee for Property Rights and for years has been president of the Raw Milk Producers and Distributors association.

Churchill Asserts Third War Unlikely

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill said tonight he thinks a third world war today is unlikely because it would begin with horrors "on a scale never dreamed of before" and would be crippling to a power depending on vast land armies, such as Russia.

The Prime Minister addressed the Anglo-American Pilgrim group here from a campaign talk. He did not mention Russia by name, but his solemn warning that when you make political prophecies "your feet are in the quick sands."

He said the main decision in any new war would come in the first week or month. He added that though "the quarrel might continue for an indefinite period after the first month it would be a broken-back war in which no great army could be moved over long distances by land."

"The reason why I think a third world war is unlikely," he said, "is that both sides know that it would begin with horrors of a kind and on a scale never dreamed of before by human beings. The torments which would fall in increasing measure upon the whole civil population of the globe would be indescribable. There is this fact also to be remembered: Government dependent upon long distance communications by land might well find they had quite lost their power to dominate events."

Sparkman Says Dewey Hopes for Proxy in Ike

Jamestown, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP) — Sen. John J. Sparkman said tonight that New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, twice loser in White house bids, hoped to use Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "as his proxy in order that he might be vindicated."

The Democratic candidate for vice president called the Republican Governor "the twice-repudiated and embittered Mr. Dewey."

Sparkman contended that Senator Taft of Ohio had "captured" Eisenhower, GOP presidential candidate, at their "harmony meeting" in New York city several weeks ago.

Taft Makes Forecast On Southern Voting

ALBUQUERQUE, Oct. 14 (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said today he thought Dwight D. Eisenhower is unlikely to begin his presidential campaign in the South, Tennessee, Texas and Louisiana.

Taft, nearly an hour late in landing here from a campaign talk last night at Casper, Wyo., added to a news conference, however, that when you make political prophecies "your feet are in the quick sands."

He said he did not mind giving his opinions but "until the ballots are in the box, I say that no State is certain."

The Republicans best chances in the South are in Virginia and Florida, he said, recalling President Truman, polled only 48 percent of the vote in Virginia four years ago and that the Republicans recorded 40 percent of the Florida vote.

RUSSIAN NOTE REJECTED BY US

Assertion That Bomber Violated Soviet Frontiers Denied by Government

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—The State department today rejected Russia's assertion that an American B-29 bomber missing near Japan with its crew of eight violated Soviet frontiers.

Moscow said in a protest note Sunday that Soviet fighters fired on the plane a week ago in the area of Yuri island north of Japan. That island, a State department spokesman declared, is actually part of the Habomai group which the United States contends are Japanese.

The Russians took over Yuri and nearby islands after World War II on the ground that all belong to the Kuriles chain which the Yalta agreement assigned to Russia.

The US claim that Yuri is rightfully Japanese and not Russian is expected to figure in an American counter-protest to Moscow which Michael J. McDermott, department press officer, said will be forwarded after officials have received all Air Force reports from the scene.

AUTHORITIES look for a stiff American demand that Russia pay indemnity for the loss of life and the plane. Moscow brusquely turned down such demands in earlier incidents involving American planes in the Far East and the Baltic.

The State department meantime sought to get in the last word in another dispute, the ousting of US Ambassador George F. Kennan Moscow yesterday turned down an American protest which contended that Kennan spoke truthfully when he compared life for foreign diplomats in Moscow with wartime internment under the Nazis.

McDermott told his news conference no reply was planned. But he commented: "If the Soviet officials are unaware of the treatment afforded diplomatic representatives of other countries in the USSR, certainly the rest of the world knows full well what these conditions are." So far as the US is concerned Kennan is still ambassador to Russia, although he cannot return to Moscow.

Grandmother's Still Busy

Columbia Man Announces Support of Stevenson

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Dean Carl W. Ackerman of the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism, announced today his support of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson for President, and said officers of the university have been urged to remain silent in order that the name of the university should not be brought into the campaign. "Officers of the university, including myself, have been urged to remain silent in order that the name of the university should not be brought into the campaign," he said. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential nominee, is still president of the university but is "on leave" from his duties. Ackerman's statement was made in a telegram to Joseph Pulitzer, president and publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

IKE'S INCOME FOR 10 YEARS MADE PUBLIC

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower made public today income for the past 10 years totaling $883,303, of which $635,000 came from his book, "Crusade in Europe."

He said he paid $217,082 in taxes, leaving him a net income of $668,221. Without the book, Eisenhower's net was $166,898.

The Republican presidential candidate added in a statement released here by his executive assistant, Arthur Vanderberg Jr.:

"I am now, in every sense of the word a private citizen, and without income except from investments."

Eisenhower's revelation followed a similar financial statement by his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson.

STEVENSON THE PAST month listed his gross income for the past 10 years as $500,052 and his taxes as $211,980. His net income for the period was $288,066.

Eisenhower recognized "some curiosity about the publication of my book" and therefore listed his income from that source separately.

Because he qualified as a non-professional writer, the General was allowed to list the income from the book as a capital gain rather than as income. This cut down the tax on it considerably.

Eisenhower said he sold all rights to the book—an account of his World War II leadership of Allied armies in Europe—for $635,000. He paid $158,750 capital gains tax on this.

Thus, he said, his net on the book was $476,250.

During six years in uniform that ended Dec. 31, 1947, Eisenhower served as supreme commander in Europe and later as postwar Army chief of staff.

His income for those years, he said, was $59,976, mostly in salaries. After taxes, he said he had $47,453 left.

The next four years ending Dec. 31, 1951, cover his nearly three years as president of Columbia University plus a year of service as military commander in Europe of the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

Eisenhower listed for those years an income exclusive of his book of $193,327, on which he paid $48,616 in Federal income taxes. This left him a net income of $144,711 not including the proceeds of the book.

Ike Pledges to Create Strength Enough to Cut Another Korea

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 14 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, speaking at a hallowed battle shrine of America—the Alamo—pledged himself tonight to create such strength that the Soviet Union will not dare another Korea.

Bringing his hard-driving presidential campaign through Texas to a peak, Eisenhower told his audience in San Antonio in a speech prepared for delivery:

"It won't bring any comfort to any American house to fix Korea and have as bad or worse trouble break out in another place. We can come to a lasting solution for Korea only when the Kremlin is made to realize that there is a will and a strength in the free world that it no longer can

Two-Pronged Attack Hits Reds

A Navy Corsair fighter-bomber (top, circle) levels off for another run over the target in North Korea as smoke from one bomb burst (arrow) mushrooms skyward. Blasting the Reds from a front-line position, a Marine mortar crew blankets the target area with a steady stream of 4.2-inch shells. Sgt. Wallace H. Richey (on phone), of Bowling Green, Ky., calls the shots, while another leatherneck (left) holds his ears against the concussion.

Reinforced Communists Retaliate With Attack on US Division, ROKs

SEOUL, Wednesday, Oct. 15 (AP)—Reinforced Chinese Reds lashed back last night at US Seventh division and the South Korean Second division troops attacking in central Korea. The furious Red counter-thrusts forced some Allied withdrawals.

The Eighth Army disclosed today that the US Seventh was the attacking force against Triangle hill, north of Kumbwa in the old Iron Triangle. Just to the east, the Republic of Korea (ROK) Second division battled for Sniper hill.

Both forces scored initial successes in Tuesday's attack, the biggest by the Allies in 11 months. Seventh division units even got to the crest of Triangle but had to fall back. However, the attackers won two footholds.

Today AP War Correspondent Milo Farneti reported that two Chinese battalions, about 1400 men, struck back at Allied infantrymen who were moving in from two flanks. Farneti said the Allies had to give ground but he did not report the extent of the withdrawal.

FARNETI SAID the Red reinforcements came from "Papa San" hill, a promontory which towers over 1500-foot-high Triangle to its south.

Sale Voided

SCRANTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—US District Judge Albert L. Watson today voided the 1937 sale of the Williamsport Wire Rope company, to Bethlehem Steel corporation.

The opinion upheld a report made the past Jan. 24 by special bankruptcy master Albert H. Aston of Wilkes-Barre which held that a conspiracy had existed in connection with the sale of the company.

Aston's report said that a fraud was perpetrated by Bethlehem Steel, former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson of Lewisburg, former Attorney John Memoia, a disbarred Scranton lawyer, and others. It had recommended that the sale for $3,300,000 be set aside.

Judge Watson directed Bethlehem to hold assets of the rope company in trusteeship until further order.

TWO VETERANS OPEN ASSEMBLY

United Nations Delegates Urged by Pearson, Nervo To Work for Armistice

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—Two veteran United Nations leaders opened the Seventh UN General Assembly today with appeals for delegates of East and West alike to work unceasingly for an armistice in Korea.

Lester B. Pearson, of Canada, chosen as the new president of the Assembly, Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, the retiring president, gave down-to-earth warnings that cold war problems everywhere must be settled or the world faces the ultimate tragedy of a ruinous war.

In an air of diplomatic gloom, the assembly convened at 11:20 a. m. (Pottstown time) in the bright, gay new 12½ million dollar hall.

The speeches of Padilla Nervo and Pearson, Canada's foreign secretary, furnished what many delegates called a realistic approach to the tense international situation.

DESPITE THEIR pleas, there was no sign of a break in the East-West stalemate or any other of the problems affecting the UN.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the last principal delegate to arrive in the buzzing hall for the Assembly start, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky did not speak. They made no sign of recognition and immediately started what was obviously a game of watchful waiting.

Churchill Regrets Anzus Pact Exclusion

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill publicly expressed regret today at Britain's exclusion from the newly-formed Australia-New Zealand-United States (Anzus) Defense pact.

He assured the reassembled House of Commons that he intends to press for Britain's admission anyway in talks with Australian and New Zealand leaders at next month's British Commonwealth conference.

Churchill spoke in reply to questions as Parliament resumed work after a Summer recess of two and a half months.

Stalin Pledges Support of Russia To Communist Parties World-Over

MOSCOW, Wednesday, Oct. 15 (AP)—Prime Minister Joseph Stalin, French Communist leader who is in an address at the closing session of the 19th Communist party Congress last night, pledged Russian support to Communist parties all over the world in a fight for "liberation and preservation of peace."

His speech was greeted by "stormy and prolonged applause turning into an ovation," the Moscow radio said.

The 72-year-old leader also appealed for support from Communist parties abroad.

"The party and our country always needed and will need the trust, sympathy and support of fraternal peoples abroad," he declared.

Stalin said the interests of the Soviet Union "generally are indivisible from the cause of peace the world over."

"It stands to reason," he added, "that our party cannot be in debt to the fraternal parties and must in turn give them support and also support their peoples in the fight, for liberation and for preservation of peace."

Egypt Gets Regent

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 14 (AP)—A single regent today supplanted the three-man Regency council that has been ruling for infant King Fuad II.

Premier Gen. Mohammed Naguib, leader of Egypt's reform program, set off the day's developments by firing an Army officer from the council.

Naguib accused the officer, Col. Rashad Mehanha, of "actions which gave the impression there was a split in the current Egyptian reform drive."

A few hours later the entire council resigned. The premier then announced that henceforth Prince Mohamed Abdel Moneim, a second cousin of exiled King Farouk, will act for the baby king as sole regent.

The three members of the Regency council installed the past August after Naguib's Army coup forced the abdication of Farouk, and sent him into exile on the Isle of Capri with Queen Narriman and their son, King Fuad.

Red Warning Given

MOSCOW, Oct. 14 (AP)—A leader of the Soviet Communist party's Control commission warned today that party representatives will be installed in republics, districts and counties, independently of local party authorities, to intensify party rule.

This warning came from the deputy chairman of the Control commission, Matvei Shkiryatov, 69, an old Bolshevik who has been a close associate of Prime Minister Stalin. In a speech to the 19th all-union Communist party Congress, he said:

"This measure will assist in the prevention of violation of party laws and intensification of the struggle against defects and unhealthy phenomena which exist in the life and work of party organizations."

BABY KIDNAPED FROM HOSPITAL

International Search Is on for Woman Who Casually Asked for Child

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—An international hunt was on today for a dark-haired woman who kidnaped a 5-day-old baby girl from the Bellevue hospital by casually asking for it by name.

Twenty-four hours later, the infant's mother, Mrs. Anna Hernandez, 35, showed up from another part of the hospital to claim the child and was told it already had been called for. She collapsed, shrieking:

"Oh, my baby, my baby."

Every air, rail and highway exit from the city was closely watched by police for a trace of the kidnaper, a short woman of about 40 wearing a rose-colored coat. She speaks Spanish and broken English.

A routine alarm was flashed through 13 northeastern States. In addition—since the parents are Puerto Rican—authorities were alerted in Florida, Puerto Rico, Cuba and Mexico against any attempt to get the child out of the country.

THERE WAS no apparent motive for the kidnapping. It happened Sunday but was not reported until yesterday. Police guessed the unidentified kidnaper may have yearned for a child she, herself, couldn't have.

If not a friend of the Hernandez family, the woman at least knew of the baby's birth the past Wednesday.

She strolled into busy Bellevue, approached attendant Nellie F. Brown and calmly asked for "the Hernandez child."

Then the mystery woman produced a yellow sweater, booties and bonnet for the child.

Mrs. Brown entrusted the child to the woman with the child's formula, written in Spanish.

The kidnaper then cuddled the baby in her arms and walked out. She was in the infants' ward only about ten minutes.

Normally, the mother would have seen the child and been known to the nurses in charge of it. But Mrs. Hernandez bore the child out of the hospital and was admitted herself for separate care.

ADLAI ASSERTS IKE CHANTING SOVIET THEME

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 14 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson tonight accused Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower of chanting the theme song of the Kremlin in contending that America's prosperity is based on war and rearmament.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, also declared that Eisenhower—his GOP rival for the White House—has resorted to "mean motives" and has dipped "somewhere near the low-water mark" in an effort to win the November election.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the Mormon tabernacle the Illinois Governor ripped at Eisenhower more scathingly than at any time during the campaign.

STEVENSON DENOUNCED anew what he calls the General's surrender to GOP Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio who bid unsuccessfully for the nomination Eisenhower won.

And the Governor added that "because of that surrender our role in world history is challenged in this election."

Neighbor Held In Slaying of 4

RENO, Nev., Oct. 14 (AP)—Nevada officers this afternoon held a next-door neighbor of Guard Young, Chester, Calif., grocer, who was beaten to death the past Friday together with three children. They acted at the request of California authorities.

Washoe county (Reno) Sheriff Lothrop identified the man as Louis Edmon Blair, about 45, the owner of Chester's only movie theater.

Blair, picked up at a roadblock north of Reno as he drove away from the Chester area, denied all knowledge of the mass robbery slayings at Chester. He waived extradition to California even before any charges had been filed.

PTA DISCUSSES CONSOLIDATION IN SPRING CITY

Spring City Parent-Teacher association heard what has been accomplished toward school consolidation at its October meeting Monday night.

An open forum issue was led by A. J. Balch, secretary of Spring City school board, who described talks with school directors of adjacent townships.

He pointed out that consolidation is a means of eliminating scattered school buildings by bringing them together under one building and administration.

He explained that an Act passed by the Legislature in 1947, requires school districts wishing to reorganize with larger administrative units to submit plans to the State Council of Education.

Chief purposes of reorganization, he went on, are to provide a more desirable program of education, medical, dental and school nursing service, home and school visitor service, supervision of music, art and physical education, library and guidance service, to create more efficient units of administration, to provide suitable school plant facilities and to provide safe and economical transportation.

School districts under consideration for consolidation with Spring City, he said, include East and West Vincent and East Coventry townships.

He added that meetings have been held with these districts since 1948, with only a slight degree of success.

A plan to form a corporation which would include the borough and surrounding townships for the sum of $400,000 met with little success. Balch explained the local school district would contribute its share by providing the building and fields, move the present gymnasium and convert this into a cafeteria, provide a new heating system and do some face lifting.

The principal objection by the townships to this proposal, he said, was that they felt the sum should be split four ways instead of three.

The major obstacle of township's building their own schools is that the State will not permit them to build a high school when one is in the existing area, which gives them no alternative but to consolidate.

Should the growth continue in Spring City schools to a point where they could no longer absorb the increased number of pupils from other townships, Balch observed, it would become necessary for these pupils to find schools elsewhere, either in Royersford, Elverson, Phoenixville, East Coventry or Honey Brook.

Century Club Members Study Pennsylvania Lore on Bucks County Trip

Graphic displays of American and Pennsylvania history filled the 1680 used by American men and day for Century club women who to subdue their environment in a picture by Buck to Bucks county yesterday.

First stop was at Bucks County Historical society museum, planned and built by the late Dr. Henry C. Mercer, wealth archeologist. Begun by Dr. Mercer in 1891, the collection consists of objects dating from the 1680 used by American men and day for Century club women who to subdue their environment in a picture by Buck to Bucks county yesterday.

A stage coach, once running between Philadelphia and Pottstown, was of interest, too.

Referring to the museum tour and a visit to Dr. Mercer's home, Fenthill, the group lunched at Doylestown Inn and heard a short address on Pennsylvania week by Mrs. Paul L. Diefenderfer Fouthill, named for the spring on top of the hill where on the house stand, is a 55-room mansion with 66 doors. The intricacies of touring the maze-like structure were such that several women, who dropped behind for a minute to examine objects past which the guide had sped momentarily were lost.

Tiles were everywhere. Dr. Mercer collected them from all countries and centuries, and designed and made them. He had lined ceilings, walls, table-tops, windows, doors, stair risers, floors and fire places with the story-telling pottery squares. Those in the study, framing the fireplace, pictured the saga of Columbus.

So many women were interested in the trip planned by co-chairmen Mrs. Edward N. Hoffman and Mrs. George DeVinney, that some overflowed into cars when bus reservations were filled.

Pilgrims were Mrs. John A. Barlow, Mrs. Richard Lehn, Harry C. Shope, Mrs. E. N. Hoff-

Former Pottstown Couple Celebrates Golden Wedding With Luncheon and Reception in New Bedford, Mass.

Two transplanted Pottstonians who still call it home celebrated their golden wedding with a buffet luncheon and reception in New Bedford, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bauer were married in Pottstown on Sept. 27, 1902. In 1916 they moved to New Bedford, where they own and operate Dan's Pavilion.

After 36 years in Massachusetts, they find New England a charming place, but write "Pennsylvania is beautiful too... no place like home."

Both are natives of Pottstown. Mr. Bauer is 70 years old and his wife 68. She was graduated from Pottstown High school in the year of her marriage.

At their reception in Dan's Pavilion, the Bauers received more than 300 relatives and friends, with Mrs. Mary Hunt Stewart of Bethlehem, their maid of honor, among the Pennsylvanians represented.

Their gifts included 30 floral pieces and a chest of gold-wrapped silver dollars.

Members of the immediate family present included a son, W. Rahn Bauer; two daughters, Elizabeth Moser and Mrs. Ernest Crossley, and three grandsons, Daniel and Thomas Bauer and Donald Moser, all of New Bedford.

In a letter to The Mercury, the Bauers reminisced about a number of their Pottstown friends including John Klink, a classmate of Mrs. Bauer's, and added "we do hope some day we may be able to come home again."

Klump-Herman Vows Repeated

Charlotte LaRue Klump, Limerick, and Lee Martin Herman, Douglassville, were married in St. Luke's Evangelical and Reformed church, Trappe, by the Rev. Arthur C. Ohl.

Vases and baskets of white asters, pompons, gladioli and chrysanthemums adorned the altar for the double ring service; and Charles Millard sang the wedding music with Gertrude Shoemaker accompanying at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chantly lace and pleated tulle gown of 18th century styling. The moulded bodice buttoned from the waist to the tiny lace collar and featured long, pointed sleeves of the same hue.

Layers of satin petticoats shone beneath the gored lace skirt, which tapered to a lace and satin train.

Her chapel length veil cascaded from the bride's heart-shaped lace bonnet, adorned with pearl hearts, and she carried a white orchid on her white bible.

For her role as matron of honor, Mrs. Calvin Sheeler wore melon net over taffeta with matching net capelot and mitts. Her headpiece, a replica of the bride's bonnet, was of the same hue.

In identical outfits colored nymph green and marigold, Mrs. Henry Snyder and Nancy Herman, sisters of the groom, were bridesmaids.

They carried bouquets of white asters and rust pompons, while the matron of honor's flowers were yellow pompons and white asters.

Calvin Sheeler was best man, and ushers were Kenneth Klump, the bride's brother, and Donald Klein.

Receiving guests at the reception in Trappe's Keystone Grange building, the bride's mother wore black accessories with her gown of deep aqua lace.

The groom's mother was clad in gray accented with accessories of navy. Both mothers wore purple orchids.

For the Herman's Florida wedding trip, the bride chose a gray going-away suit with accessories in gold and black. Upon their return, they will make their home in Limerick with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Klump.

was an admitted ex-Communist and referred to him as a violator of the Articles of war and an indicted smuggler.

GREENSPUN was fined $10,000 in 1950 in Los Angeles district Federal court after pleading guilty to violating the Neutrality act by smuggling arms to Israeli forces in their battle with the Arabs.

Regarding McCarthy's other charge, Greenspun said he—and an entire ward—were fined $25 each for overstaying a hospital leave by two hours on New Year's Eve, 1945. He was in an English hospital, recovering from wounds received in France.

The ruckus between the two Republicans — Greenspun's paper is supporting Eisenhower — flared when McCarthy called the publisher to task for his column. Greenspun's column asked the Senator to answer questions about his connection with the Lustron corporation loan, his income tax and his service wounds.

Lustron corporation receivership proceedings in 1950 disclosed payment of $10,000 to McCarthy for writing an article on housing published in a Lustron promotional booklet. The firm fabricated steel houses. McCarthy acknowledged the payment but said it was "an ordinary competitive matter—I sold (the article) to the highest bidder" and he said there was no secret about his authorship.

McCarthy interrupted his talk to ask Greenspun to stand. The publisher complied and asked for a chance to answer McCarthy's blast.

The Senator said he could "talk as long as you want" after his own speech was concluded, and said he would escort Greenspun to the platform. He didn't, but Greenspun came up from the audience and demanded that he stay and debate with him. But the Senator left, saying, "as for myself, I'm not going to listen."

Mine Workers Vote Special Assessment

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14 (AP)—The United Mine Workers convention today voted to tax the union's members with a $20 special assessment for "future contingencies."

The 2800 delegates quickly approved the move initiated by union President John L. Lewis, who was declining to be specific as to why the money was needed — commented "those who dance must pay the fiddlers."

The assessment is estimated to yield about $8,000,000 for the union's treasury which, as of the past June 30, had a $34,000,000 balance, a sum larger than of any other labor union in the country.

Lewis said only the money was needed "to replenish the treasury, burdened by recent heavy disbursements and to provide for future contingencies." Newsmen, asking for a fuller explanation, were told by Lewis "the statement speaks for itself."

Frequently in the past, Lewis expressed concern over the nation hitting bad times even a depression, and has appeared intent on putting his union in top financial shape.

A Class A lunch usually comprises a sandwich, soup and milk or a hot platter and milk. Though the district loses 11 1/2 cents on every half-pint bottle of milk it sells for a nickel, the board will not raise the milk price.

Cline and Reigh, Sanatoga contractors, were awarded a contract for constructing an asphalt play area 100 by 60 feet behind the school on a $1332 bid, the lowest of three submitted.

Donnon said four basketball backboards will be erected at the edges of the play area soon.

The Parent-Teacher association's offer to raise money for the purchase of a portable stage for the school's all-purpose room was accepted eagerly by the board, the president reported.

The board granted the organization permission to use the all-purpose room for a square dance Oct. 25.

Supervising Principal Leroy Brendlinger reported on the State Education congress and School Directors convention which he attended the past Oct. 7 and 8 in Harrisburg and announced school attendance during the past month was 97 percent.

Attorney in Illinois Relieved of Duties

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Howard L. Doyle, who recently told House investigators he earned $86,517 in outside legal fees while a US attorney in Illinois and over-looked $5000 of this sum in his income tax returns, has been relieved of his duties pending an investigation.

The Justice department said today Doyle had been relieved at his own request. The department's statement was issued after Attorney General McGranery talked with Doyle by telephone.

Doyle, 58, has been the Federal prosecutor for the southern district of Illinois since 1935. His headquarters have been at Springfield.

House Group Defied By Five Witnesses In Communist Probe

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14 (AP)—A House un-American activities subcommittee ran into a stone wall of "nos" and "I decline to answer" replies to questions directed at five witnesses here today.

The subcommittee called the five in the hope of enlarging on the testimony given yesterday by a former Communist party member, Thomas Delaney, about Red activities in the Philadelphia area.

But the witnesses, who identified themselves as Jules Abercaulph, 49, Jack S. Zucker, Max Helfand and John J. Ellis of Philadelphia, and John Tria, 38, of Camden, declined to answer questions outside of identification.

Abercaulph, who was an independent candidate for mayor in Philadelphia two years ago, declined to tell the committee who backed him in his candidacy. Committee queries as to whether he was president and business agent of the International Jewelry Workers union for six years also brought declarations of response.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Washington's Supreme court refused today to strike Gen. Douglas MacArthur's name from the State's election ballot.

The General was nominated for president by the Christian National party. His running mate for vice president is Jack B. Tenney of Los Angeles.

Republicans have been seeking a way to get MacArthur's name off the ballot for fear it may draw votes that otherwise go to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee.

NOMBASA, Kenya, Oct. 14 (AP)—Drought, elephants, baboons and birds, in that order, were listed today as the four plagues that have destroyed crops in this British East Africa colony.

The unexplained swoop of grain-eating small birds is the latest. Armed game scouts are on full time shooting the baboons but their depredations continue and the birds are defying stick-and-stone counter attacks. Marauding elephants have retired for the time being.

Disappearance of Annals On MacArthur Unsolved

TOKYO, Wednesday, Oct. 15 (AP)—Japanese staff officers who helped compile what they called the war annals of Gen. Douglas MacArthur said Tuesday they could throw no light on a New York report that the three-volume historical manuscript of World War II had vanished.

They said they never knew for certain if the manuscript was ever printed.

A Kyodo News agency report from New York asserted five copies of the book were secretly printed but had disappeared.

Kyodo said the Dai Nippon Printing company in Tokyo denied printing five copies of the history and said it had only set type for the project.

First Defense Drill Since War Is Set

HARRISBURG, Oct. 14 (AP)—Pennsylvania's first air-raid alert tomorrow will be the first full-scale civilian defense drill since World War II.

Nearly 11 million Pennsylvanians will be expected to take to cover when sirens, horns or whistles sound at 1:30 p. m. throughout the State.

Richard Gerstell, State civilian defense director, said the seven-minute alert will test local attack warning systems, educate the public in basic air raid precaution and give air raid personnel experience to formulate regulations in case of actual attack.

Trojan Cage Schedule Lists 23 Engagements

Notre Dame should boast about its tough schedule!

The Pottstown cage Trojans will face 23 opponents during the coming winter season and the only breathers they will get will be between halves.

Athletic director Ed Good announced the rugged card yesterday after completing arrangements for a game at Abington, Dec. 5. This game, the second of the season is of special significance.

Vern Fegley, former coach at High school was played on a maxi-Easton, takes over the coaching reins at the Bucks county school this year. In the nine game series pitted, a chance to acclimate them-between Easton and Pottstown, selves to the extra running in-Good's teams have tabbed five vic-tories, and Fegley's, four. A win for Fegley on his new home court would set him right with his new employers.

The Trojans will face the cream of Class B competition in its opener Dec. 2. Kutztown, State B champ in 1950-51 and runnerup the past season, will help the locals open their campaign on the Pottstown court.

After the Abington game, the Trojans go against a series of top notch independents before plunging into its Ches-Mont league duties.

Doyelstown, a home and away foe, Lancaster, Easton, Lebanon, Norristown, Swoyersville and Bethlehem will provide fast company for Dave Ricketts and company, just prior to the first league game with Berwyn.

Seven straight loop encounters follow before Doyelstown comes to Pottstown, and then the remain-ing five games in the league are played.

STARTING the season against a perennial champ, made it only fit to finish against another. Allen-town will play here on March 3 to pull down the curtain on a schedule that can either make or break the Trojans.

The 23-game program was de-veloped with a definite plan in mind. Abington, Doyelstown, Lan-caster, Lebanon, Bethlehem, West Chester and Coatesville all have maximum size courts.

Keeping the post-season tourna-ments in mind, Good realizes the Trojans, who are used to playing on the smaller Pottstown floor, are at a disadvantage. The Summer

Golden Cubs Play First Home Game Against Downingtown Juniors Friday

The Golden Cubs of Gene Kauler are being fed a steady diet of hard work in an attempt to regain their winning appetite against the Downingtown Whippet Juniors here Friday afternoon.

Local fans will have their first look at the Cubs, who have extended their non-losing string to nine with one win and a tie in two away games this season.

After being Coatesville's Gor-don Junior High in their last out-ing last Thursday, the Cubs, will be trying to get another win-ning streak started at Franklin field.

Yesterday afternoon, Kauler gave his team the man-size job of running against a line composed of Senior High players. Maybe this maneuver will have the same ef-fect of a baseball hitter who car-ries two bats to the plate, and af-ter having discarded one, the wil-low he keeps seems much lighter.

Bucking against the Down-ingtown forward wall may be less of a job than battling the local high schoolers. At least the hour and a half scrimmage proved a stern test for the Cubs and if work is a sure win-ning tonic they are well bar-bered for battle.

Monday they scrimmaged against themselves and one pleas-ing aspect of the session was the apparent full recovery of Ed Sa-bresky's sprained ankle. The cap-tain guard played most of the game against Gordon but was hampered by the injury.

Kauler said he plans to continue with the same starting lineup that has opened both games. That would include in the backfield, quarterback Jim Gibbons, half-backs Dave Gillis and Joe Lipko and fullback Dan Keifrieder.

IN THE OPENING 12-6 win over Memorial Junior High at Phoenix-ville Gillis carried the ground-gaining load, but against Gordon, Lipko and Keifrieder ate up most of the yardage. It was Lipko's 55-yard run in the third quarter that kept the Cubs' undefeated record intact.

Across the line will be Dick Rhoads and John Osuch at ends; Marshall Sager and Ken Wensel the tackles; Sabresky and Bob Gilliland at guards, and Wils Bedell at center.

Filipski, Bell All-America Bound

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP) — Harry Agganis, Boston university's left-handed quarterback, and Gene Filipski, Villanova's brilliant ball-carrier, head a list of 15 players named for All America consideration today by the Associated Press' Eastern Regional board.

Three ends — Ed Bell of Penn-sylvania, Frank McPhee of Princeton and Ed Woodsum of Yale — also received special mention in the first all-over of individual talent in the East.

Agganis, who rejoined BU last season after serving in the Ma-rines, has been a spearhead of the team which upset Miami (Fla) last weekend, 8-7. His passing and kicking were mainly responsible.

Filipski, who transferred to Vil-lanova from West Point after last season's cribbing scandal, is the nation's rushing leader with a total of 475 yards. His backfield work has sparked Villanova to four straight victories.

McPhee and Bell are both double service ends, playing offense and defense. McPhee, a senior, is a 6-2 190-pounder who served as a battery mate for Princeton's great Dick Kazmaier for the past two years. Bell was a giant in the Penn defense which helped crack Prin-ceton's 24-game winning streak a week ago.

Yale followers are comparing Woodsum, a pass-catching senior to the Elis' famous Larry Kelley.

Phoenixville Bringing Top Flight Passer in Pat Bracelin

One of Pottstown High's greatest problems in halting Phoenixville's three-game winning streak will be to stop passer Pat Bracelin.

On his three out of 12 record against Downingtown Monday afternoon, one is led to believe he is only a mediocre aerial artist. But past performances justify the fear that the Trojans may be in for another bombing similar to that administered by Norristown's George Cagliola the past Friday.

If the inexperienced Trojan defenders picked up any pointers against the Eagles, Satur-day would be a good time to put them to use.

One passer is easier to defend against than two — Cag and his sidekick Sylvester Williams kept the Trojan line wondering who to charge. And it is also doubtful that all the Phantom receivers can match Bob McKay, Bob Barksdale and Horace Smith.

BUT IN John Leo, Phoenix has an end that can get out and go, and will be the man to watch when Bracelin starts to fade.

Jimmy Collins Pounds Ronnie Clayton, British Feather Titlist, for 5-Round KO

BOSTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Boston's iron-fisted Tommy Collins stripped Ronnie Clayton of two of his proud boxing claims by pounding out a technical knockout decision over Clayton's rushing leader with a total of 2-58 of the fifth round in scheduled 10 rounds tonight at the Boston Garden. Clayton had boasted that he had never been knocked off his feet or beaten by an Irishman in his 104 previous professional starts.

The cocky Bostonian dropped the 29 year old Britisher from Black-pool three-times before referee Jimmy McCarron intervened. Collins, at 128½, had a half pound weight advantage on his much more experienced international rival.

After being informed of Clay-ton's pre-bout boasts, Collins made one for himself. "I'll be out of there in plenty of time to give our new baby boy his 11 o'clock feeding," Collins vowed.

The grizzled Briton did not go down to his most humiliating de-feat without honor. He fought in a courageous fashion from start to finish but was unable to land a single blow that discommoded the slashing Collins.

Tommy spent the first two minutes feeling out Clayton and, evidently the Britisher showed him everything he wanted to learn. Thereupon Collins cut loose with his vicious lefts to the head and Clayton's nose dripping long before he had warmed up to his task.

EARLY IN THE second session Collins landed a terrific right to the chin and Clayton dropped on one knee for a nine count. When he rose, Collins lashed him with a vicious left that opened a gash over the right eye.

During most of the third round, Collins cuffed Clayton's head solidly with both hands but the Britisher fought back in bulldog fashion.

Several of the Briton's blows ap-peared to land solidly, but Col-lins ignored them completely and closed in to resume his head bat-tering.

Midway through the fourth, Collins scored with what ap-peared to be his heaviest blow of the abbreviated bout. It was a right smash to the head but evidently it landed a bit too high. Collins pulled back as if he expected Clayton to drop. When Clayton refused, Collins connected with a right to the chin that put Clayton on his hands and knees for another nine count.

Clayton was groggy coming out for the fifth and the Bostonian stood off at long range and kept lashing him with lefts and rights to the head. A series of a left, right and left made Clayton topple over backwards. That third knock-down convinced the referee Clay-ton was hopelessly beaten, despite his courageous but feeble attempt to struggle to his feet.

Elks, Knee-Hi Playoff Champs, Honored At Banquet by Sponsoring Organization

Baseball made a temporary comeback last night as the Elks Knee-Hi playoff champs were honored by their sponsors at a banquet in the Elks lodge.

Each of the youngsters who participated in the Recreation Com-mission league, went home with a miniature baseball award, a team picture and a belly-full of turkey.

One of the outstanding features of the evening was the presenta-tion of the most valuable player award to Jan Fritz, the Elks tal-ented pitcher and co-captain. He was voted MVP by an narrow mar-gin over battery mate, Joe Scar-beck.

Fritz was given a trophy by S Paul "Tosh" Seeders, Elks exalted ruler, and Scarbeck was awarded an autographed baseball signed by from Norristown's Rittenhouse members of the Philadelphia Ath-letes.

Coach Charlie Wisner has his 125-pounders primed for their second victory in three starts. The first game with Bala-Cynwyd is tentatively scheduled for a later date after being rained out in the third quarter two weeks ago.

Wisner's crew looked good in de-feating Gordon Junior high of Coatesville, 13-0. Halfback Ken Yergey scored both touchdowns on long runs and will be the man to watch for the locals.

Starting the afternoon card at 3:15 o'clock will be coach Spence coach of the team, and Len Harp, Lessig's hundred weights. After dropping their opener to Bala, they came back to whip Gordon, 14-0 the past Friday.

BOB REIS, recreation director, and Howard Cates, former big league ball player and scout gave short addresses.

Bechtel, speaking for the Me-morial Park commission an-nounced that a ball field in Mana-mountainers are using a new type tawny Park has been completed for use next season by the Knee-Hi and Junior leagues.

A movie of the playoff games and the old-timers game concluded the program at which about 75 men and boys attended.

Spartans Regain Lead in AP Poll

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Michigan State, the pre-season favorite, is back on top of the Associated Press football poll today but can't afford to relax and take it easy.

At least two other teams with impressive, unmarred records—Maryland and California—are ready to step in the moment the Spartans let their guard down.

The Spartans recaptured the No. 1 position this week from Wisconsin, upset victim of Ohio State. They impressed sports writers and newscasters with the decisive way they manhandled Texas A&M, 46-6.

The first three weeks of the AP poll have produced no single powerhouse which completely dominates the scene. Michigan State led the first poll before losing out the past week to Wisconsin.

This week, despite their awesome rout of the Texas Aggies, the Spartans won only a slim advantage over Maryland and California, both in first place ballots and in overall points.

In the poll, 10 points are given for each first place vote, nine for second, and so forth.

Michigan State received 39 first place votes and a total of 1026 points. Maryland, which whopped Georgia 37-0, got 31 first place votes and 961 points compared with 21 first place votes and 889 points for California. The Golden Bears beat Oregon Saturday, 41-7.

Completing the top 10 are Georgia Tech, Duke, Oklahoma, Southern California, Kansas, Purdue and UCLA.

WISCONSIN dropped out of the first 10 on its 23-14 loss to Ohio State. Notre Dame, beaten 22-19 by Pitt, plummeted from eighth position and Princeton, its 24-game winning streak broken by Penn, fell from 10th to the "also rans."

New members of the top 10 are Oklahoma, up from 12th to sixth; Purdue, from 15th to ninth, and UCLA, from 11th to 10th.

Saturday's games are bound to reshuffle the order. Michigan State is host to Syracuse, winner of its last three games. Maryland tackles unbeaten Navy, and California meets a tough independent in Santa Clara.

Georgia Tech plays Auburn, Duke is at North Carolina State. Oklahoma has a rugged test in Kansas, Southern California faces Oregon State. Purdue meets Notre Dame and UCLA opposes Stanford.

The leaders (points based on ten for first, nine for second and so on) with season records and first place votes in parentheses:

1. Michigan State (3-0) (39).....1026	11. Virginia (3-0).....161
2. Maryland (4-0) (31).....961	12. Wisconsin (2-3).....108
3. California (4-0) (21).....889	13. Stanford (4-0).....105
4. Georgia Tech (4-0) (6).....704	14. Penn (2-3-1).....103
5. Duke (4-0) (18).....620	15. Villanova (4-0).....91
6. Oklahoma (3-0-1) (23).....543	16. Ohio State (2-1).....74
7. Southern California (4-0) (12).....537	17. Illinois (2-1).....71
8. Kansas (4-0) (11).....519	18. Alabama (4-0).....51

Pirates Trade Bell To Cincinnati Reds For Three Players

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Major league clubs, with the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Browns playing the leading roles, were busy as bidders today in lining up talent for the 1953 season.

The Pirates, a woeful last in the National League and the Browns, a sad seventh in the American, pulled off the biggest deal of the day while the Boston Red Sox, St. Louis Cardinals and the Philadelphia Athletics dipped into the minors to bolster their squads.

Pittsburgh traded Gus Bell, 23-year-old long-ball hitting outfielder to the Cincinnati Reds for catcher Joe Rossi, outfielders Cal Abrams and Gail Henley.

The Browns laid out the largest cash-player purchase price in their history, $150,000, to obtain shortstop Bill Hunter from the Brooklyn Dodger organization.

Hunter played with Fort Worth of the Texas League this season. He batted .290 and led the league in fielding and stolen bases. He was hailed as one of the best shortstops in minors along with Don Zimmer, recently advanced to Brooklyn from Mobile of the Southern Association.

IN ADDITION to the vast cash outlay the Browns shipped outfielder Ray Coleman, pitcher Bob Mahoney and shortstop Stan Rokicki to the Dodger St. Paul team of the American Association.

Bell batted only .246 in 131 games for the Pirates but is regarded as one of the most promising young outfielders in the game. Rossi, drafted from Portland of the Pacific Coast League in 1951, hit .221 for the Reds. Abrams, obtained from Brooklyn during the season, batted .278. Henley, obtained from the New York Yankees yesterday for pitcher Frank Hiller, batted .273 for the Reds' Tulsa farm of the Texas League.

In Pittsburgh, Bell said he wasn't too surprised that he had been traded by Branch Rickey, Pirate general manager. Bell added:

"I guess Rickey didn't like my play too much. He said I didn't hustle enough. I guess I didn't run fast enough from right field to the bench at the end of the inning. Maybe it will be for the best, any club was honored with more than Pirates. They should have a good team in a couple of years if the Army doesn't hurt them too much."

THE PIRATES also added two players from the minor leagues. The Bucs obtained catcher Bill Hall from their Charleston South Atlantic League club and pitcher Charley Sipple, once of the Philadelphia Phillies, from Indianapolis of the American Association. The Pirates in turn sent pitcher Don Carlson to Charleston and sold left-hander Len Yochim to New Orleans.

Philadelphia signed right-hander John Mackinson, a former New York Yankee farmhand, to a contract. Mackinson won 16 and lost 14 for Birmingham's tail-end Southern Association team.

The Cardinals acquired the International League's rookie of the year, third baseman Ray Jablonski, from Rochester and picked up five other players from farm clubs.

Double Distinction

Virgil Trucks of the Detroit Tigers was the only American League hurler to pitch a no-hitter during the '52 season and he twirled two of them.

Their Passing May Figure in Big Ones Coming Up This Week

Aerial game, as practiced by these collegiate tossers, may figure prominently in the big games coming up Saturday, Oct. 18. Topping the list are such encounters as Maryland-Navy, Penn State-Nebraska, Kansas-Oklahoma, Purdue-Notre Dame and U.C.L.A.-Stanford. Several undefeated teams will find their win streaks facing the toughest hurdles of the season.

Bobby Shantz Top Choice of Writers for All-Star Team

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—The 1952 major league all-star team, announced today, is almost brand new everywhere except the infield. Of the four players who are holdovers from the 1951 selection, three of them are infielders—first baseman Ferris Fain of the Philadelphia Athletics, second baseman Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers and shortstop Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees.

The fourth returnee is Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal outfielder making the honor team for the sixth time. He has missed only once since the team was first picked in 1946.

The all-star team is picked annually by the Associated Press in a poll of members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

New York's world champion Yankees placed three men on the 10-man team while the Philadelphia Athletics placed two. No other club was honored with more than one performer.

Completing the infield was Al Rosen, who batted .302 for the Cleveland Indians, joining Musial in the outfield were Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs and Mickey Mantle of the Yankees.

Larry (Yogi) Berra edged out Brooklyn's Roy Campanella for the catcher's spot. His battery mates were solid choices—Bobby Shantz, the Athletics' 24-game winner, and Robin Roberts of the Phillies, who had the season's best record at 28-7.

SHANTZ RECEIVED the most votes, getting 70 of the 72 cast. Musial who also received votes for first base, was on 68 ballots.

The all-star team: First base—Ferris Fain, Athletics (.327). Second base—Jackie Robinson, Dodgers (.308). Third base—Al Rosen, Indians (.302). Shortstop—Phil Rizzuto, Yankees (.253).

Cockell Wins 1st As Heavyweight On 2-Round KO

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Don Cockell, former British and European light heavyweight champion, easily won his first fight as a heavyweight tonight by stopping Paddy Slavin of Belfast, the Irish titleholder, in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Cockell weighed 201½. Slavin 194. Even though Cockell had no trouble in the eyes of many ring-siders it was far from an impressive debut for the man who lost his lightweight title to Randy Turpin. Cockell was thick around his waistline and appeared lethargic in movement, but his left hooks were telling.

One for 33 W. C. McElhannon set a Tulane record last season when he caught 33 forward passes for 484 yards. However, he scored only one touchdown.

Carter Favored To Regain Title From Salas

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (AP)—Luro Salas, the only Mexican ever to hold an undisputed boxing title, is bursting with confidence that he will hang on to his lightweight crown tomorrow night against the swarming attack of Jimmy Carter.

"I read that Carter is favorite 2 to 1 but that is crazy odds," said the little Monterrey mauler who works out of Los Angeles. "I'm sure I can beat Carter again. I punch too hard and have too much lasting strength for him."

The scheduled 15 rounder at Chicago Stadium will begin at 10 p. m. Pottstown time and be televised and broadcast nationally.

The International Boxing Club looks for a slim ring-side gathering of 6000 and a meager gate of $25,000.

"Most of the tickets being bought are for cheap seats," said Truman Gibson, IBC secretary. "The house is scaled from a $10 top to $2.50. Many of Salas' Latin friends and supporters will come, but not at the $10 or $7.50 prices."

Open Season Called On Rubbish Dumpers

Upper Hanover road supervisors have declared open season on indiscriminate rubbish dumpers.

President Harvey A. Schwoyer last night outlined the need for a crackdown campaign against persons who dump their garbage and rubbish along public roads to Supervisors Charles F. Keck and Clyde J. Ackerman.

Schwoyer said, "This is our most pressing problem at the moment. And if people don't wiseup, we'll have to prosecute."

"There are several public dumps in the township and there's no reason why they can't take their refuse to those places."

"For some time now we've had to clean up after careless persons who unload their scraps on public roads."

Supervisors, meeting in Perkmen Heights hotel, discussed progress of the Fall grading program on the township's 51 miles of unpaved roads.

Supervisors paved Fry Road, a strip nine-tenths of a mile in length, near Red Hill, this past Summer.

ELIZABETH (STRUNK) UPDEGROVE, 80 of 356 SOUTH HANOVER STREET, HANOVER HEIGHTS, died at her home at midnight Monday. She had been ill for the past three years.

She was the widow of Jacob Updegrove, who died in 1913. For many years, Mrs. Strunk had been a maternity nurse in homes in Pottstown and Chester county. She retired from this work when she was 55. She observed her 80th birthday the past Aug. 2.

Daughter of Abraham and Elizabeth (Haws) Strunk, she was a lifelong resident of the Pottstown area. For the past eight years she had lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Powell. Mrs. Powell's mother and Mrs. Updegrove were cousins.

Before moving to the Powell home, she had lived in her own home next door at 558 South Hanover street.

For many years she had been a member of Cedarville Methodist church but in recent years had been a member of First Methodist church.

There are no close survivors.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from a funeral home at 404 High street. The Rev. Martin J. Brinton, pastor of First Methodist church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Mt. Zion cemetery.

ERNEST J. SITES, 47, husband of Orpha (Wunderlich) Sites, 537 SPRUCE STREET, died at Pottstown hospital yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. He had been in failing health for the past several months and a patient at the hospital for the past 10 days.

Born in Greencastle, he was a son of the late Luther and Minnie (Rosenberry) Sites. He had lived at his last address for the past six years, prior to which he lived at 407 1/2 Beech street.

Mr. Sites was employed by the Bethlehem Steel company as a crane operator.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Betty Sites, at home; two sons, Ellsworth and Richard Sites, at home; one sister, Kathleen, wife of Kenneth Davis, 444 Lincoln avenue, and one brother, Clyde Sites, Douglassville RD 1.

Services will be held from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Interment will be made in Highland Memorial park.

Seventy-five residents of Berks county traveled to PHILADELPHIA to pay their last respects to Reading State Trooper LLOYD SALMON, who was killed in an automobile accident the past Monday.

Herman G. Weiss, Local Archer, Bags Season's First Deer

The first bagging of a deer by a Pottstown area bow and arrow hunter was reported yesterday.

The successful hunter was Herman G. Weiss, Green Lane, one of 26 members of the recently-formed Perkiomen Valley Bowmen who left Monday on a deer hunting trip to Hickory Run State park near White Haven, Luzerne county.

Fourteen others on the trip got shots at buck but missed.

Weiss brought down a 5-point buck weighing 110 pounds, dressed, with a single arrow from his metal bow, which takes 57 pounds of pull. He hit the deer high in the belly.

His shot was at about 25-30 yards (50 yards is considered maximum range with bow and arrow). Weiss and companions trailed the deer through the fairly heavy cover for more than 100 yards.

Among those who missed shots were his brother, Edward Weiss, who placed third in the State archery shoot held in Reading the past month. Herman Weiss is owner of Green Lane hotel. Edward is owner of Palm hotel and secretary of the bowmen.

Also in the group was Edward Pruner, Sanatoga, president of the group, which was founded the past Spring and which now has 65 members.

The successful hunter was one in the group that returned early yesterday. The others plan to complete three days of hunting.

This is only the second year that bow and arrow hunting of deer has been legal in Pennsylvania. This year's special deer season for bowmen opened Monday and closes Oct. 25.

Imaginative Drive Against Reds Asked

DETROIT, Oct. 14 (AP)—Senator Richard M. Nixon, in a speech prepared for delivery here tonight, called for an "ably led, courageous, imaginative offensive" against global Communism and declared that such an offensive would not spell war.

He said that was the only angle of possible attack and would meet can life. Communism where it is the weak—"in the field of ideas, spirit, and morale."

In the major address of the first neither the stomach nor the stamina of his two-day whistle stop in a campaign swing through Michigan issue."

the GOP vice presidential candidate told an audience in the Masonic temple:

"Such an offensive would not spell war. It would offer better American ideals, backed by a moral revival here at home as a potent bulwark against the spreading Red tide."

Nixon said that "beyond the shadow of a doubt" the Communist conspiracy at home and abroad is the "root of all evil" in America.

"To date," he said, "the Trustees—in the field of ideas, spirit, and often corrupt, has shown neither the stomach nor the stamina of his two-day whistle stop in a campaign swing through Michigan issue."

QUAKE RECORDED
NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Columbia university seismograph today recorded an earthquake of moderate intensity believed to be within 500 to 1000 miles of New York city.

India was brought a little closer to the people attending the North Branch Christian Endeavor meeting last night when a Lebanon, Ky., missionary worker showed slides of the country and gave short talks on the pictures.

Evelyn Schreff was the guest speaker at the rally of the group which met at Pine Swamp Evangelical Congregational church. The slides were illustrations of the work being done by missionaries in the Far East country.

Edgar Lockart, president of the North Branch CE, led a song service and sang a solo. Marion Webster played an accordion solo.

Lockart appointed a committee for the next meeting of the organization to be held Nov. 11 at the Nantmeal Methodist church.

Those named to make plans for the coming meeting were the Rev. John Sandiford, pastor of Nantmeal Methodist church; Ruth Brown and Mrs. Jeffers.

The Pine Swamp Evangelical Congregational church won the banner for attendance at last night's meeting.

Earth changes, but thy soul and God stand sure.—Robert Browning.

Blood on the Highways

AMERICA'S highways are saturated with blood. Last year alone, 37,500 people were killed on highway accidents. Another 2,000,000 were injured.
There is no way to adequately describe the suffering of the victims and their families. But anyone can see that the price we are paying for recklessness, carelessness, and incompetence behind the wheel is out of all reason and must be reduced.

There is still another aspect to this—the economic aspect.

Last year alone, despite all possible savings and economies, the automobile casualty insurance industry was unable to make both ends meet.

The premiums it collected were more than $100,000,000 less than it had to pay out because of the steadily mounting cost of accidents. Manifestly, no enterprise can long operate on a deficit basis.

The immediate answer is higher rates. But it is conceivable that, should the rates go high enough, the insurance companies would be priced right out of the market.

And then the alternative would become government-operated compulsory insurance, paid for in part through premiums and in part by taxes.

Anyone with slightest knowledge of government-in-business knows that it is always accompanied by flagrant waste and inefficiency, by ever-expanding patronage staffed bureaus, and by an insatiable appetite for more of our tax money.

Even worse, government-in-business means less freedom and opportunity for our people—and brings us closer to the tyranny of total socialism.

There is only one answer to the highway carnage and all the human and economic problems it creates.

The essence of it is to pass laws that will bar the incompetent and the congenitally reckless from the public highways.

The man who refuses to drive cautiously must be punished and, if necessary refused the right to drive at all.

Planners Don't Give Up

THE present price control law expires April 30. Almost every economist is convinced — on practical as well as theoretical grounds — that it should be allowed to die at that time, unhonored and unsung. So are many and perhaps most of our Senators and Representatives. And so are a majority of the nation's newspapers and other media of opinion.

But that doesn't mean that the political planners have given up. It is perfectly clear that their aim is permanent price controls—and the domination of the economic life of the country that would be an inevitable part of it.

Reliable authorities have said that by decontrolling some items now, the planners hope to convince Congress to authorize long-time control authority. It's an odds-on bet that the planners would welcome another wave of price inflation, on the theory that this would result in demand for more and tougher controls. It's equally likely that they have been disappointed by the fact that many items in common use have been selling at below-ceiling prices for a long time, and in these cases the controls have been meaningless.

Current and temporary price trends — whether up or down — are the least important factor in the price control argument. The real issue, and it is an all-important one, is whether we are to have free, competitive enterprise, in which prices find their natural level—or whether we are to have enterprise which is subject to the whims of a group of political appointees who are responsible only to the top political bosses.

Mr. Truman's Standard

HOW many newspaper readers know there is an almost ironclad custom that the president of the United States is never called a liar?

The custom is rooted in respect for the office, which is rightly believed to have a lustre that is independent of the man who holds it.

The feeling is that attributing base motives to any man who holds the office of the presidency must tarnish the lustre of the office itself.

By the same custom a higher level of official department is expected of the president than is asked of lesser officials. He is not expected to deal in base calumnies, for to do so is to invite attacks that might degrade the office he holds.

Americans must prize for themselves whether or not Harry S. Truman met the standards of the American presidency when he stepped to a Spokane audience.

"It's just a damn lie!"

Grampaw Oakley

PLUNK CORNERS,
Editor, The Mercury, October 14,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Well, I see by the papers where Army engineers paved a Korean road with refined gold ore, thinking it was gravel. The ore was worth $50,000. Ought to call it Millionaires row.

A college professor says the exclamation point has disappeared from literature. Sounds like a dirty dig at this column!
And say: Russian composers have been ordered to write operettas that are light and funny. They'll have a tough time trying to find anything humorous in such things as the hammer and sickle!

Calendar 'Art' Unfit For Children

Unfit for Kids

To the Editor: This calendar, at about the time the local grade schools were letting out, I wandered into a drug store on High street to buy a magazine. A number of school pupils were crowded around the magazine display racks, some actually intending to buy. I suppose, but many more just thumbing through periodicals to look at the pictures.

There was one discordant note that angered me and which leads me to believe that the proprietors of at least this store—but I suspect there are others—are somewhat less than conscientious in discharging their community responsibilities.

What I cannot understand is why the store should have seen fit to post this large, garishly-colored reproduction of a naked woman directly above the magazine display where it could not be missed by even the youngest.

What purpose does this picture, so outlandish in its coloring, so absurd in its disproportionate representation, of the female figure—just what purpose does it serve?

I know people will accuse me of being a prude, but if this is prudery, I must accept the charge. Yet it seems to me that this sort of thing can be confined to bars and barber shops without seriously threatening any adult's right to gawk at whatever he wishes.

Pottstown DISTURBED

'More Food, Less Wind'

To the Editor: As a person who has attended quite a few banquets and similar gatherings over the years, I should like to congratulate the Pottstown musicians' union (Local 211, American Federation of Musicians) for having a banquet without a lot of speeches.

So many times, there is a feature attraction at the banquet—a visiting celebrity, for instance, or a veteran member who is being honored—but by the time the feature is reached everybody is exhausted.

I have talked to dozens of men who speak frequently at banquets. To a man, they say making such speeches is a painful ordeal for them, and yet they continue to make "a few remarks" for 15 or 20 minutes.

Let all but the featured banquet speaker save themselves such ordeals. Let's have more food, more music and less wind.

Cars Do Suffer

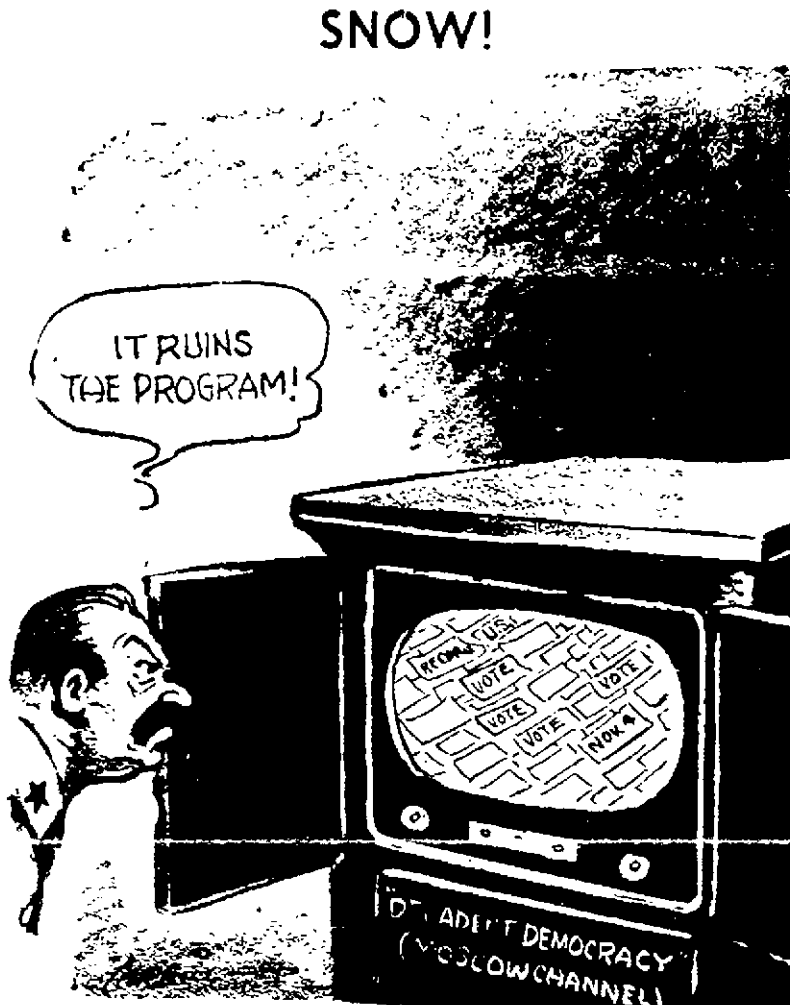

To the Editor: As J.O.T. said in your Readers Say column ("Children First," Oct. 13) more power to the woman who put her children ahead of her car by converting her garage into a playroom for her children.

But I just can't agree with the letter-writer when he (or she) claims, in effect, that one can leave one's automobile out in the elements all the time without the vehicle being affected.

True, he did mention that his sits day after day in the rain without anything happening to it, but what about the other types of weather, the sun, hail, snow and sleet?

The faded appearance of many autos on the street today is due chiefly to the autos being left in the sun too much. And if J.O.T. believes hail and sleet won't affect his car, just let him keep the car out in that type weather for one winter.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 14 — Expect the usual denials — but Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis are having their moments. And not all of them are pleasant. Hassles have to do with ambition and a bit of very private family stuff. . . . Sam Goldwyn won't divulge the title or theme of his big new musical to be filmed as "No. 89." We'd bet it's his long-planned, "Billion Dollar Baby" with Joan Evans starring — and perhaps a new score. . . . Sheila Connolly, a double in looks for Liz Taylor, will never forget the ribbing she watched her take from Red Skelton at a soiree. . . . Later Skelton "confided." "Managers are just crazy about my latest picture. They have ropes up in all the theaters. They want to hang themselves!"

Janet Leigh

Linda Darnell is out of her contract with 20th-Fox and a free-lancer now. It's expected she'll remain in Europe movie-making for many months after "The Mountain" (currently starring her in Italy) is finished. . . . 20th-Fox, incidentally, has resigned pretty Barbara Bates. Let's hope it does more for the gal in the future than it has the past few years she's been on the lot. This studio is almost out of fresh femininity to publicize. . . . John Munson of the N. Y. stage, weds TV actress Mary Pat Cook here today. . . . Rita Gam, who made a silent but stunning impression in "The Thief" is already drawing a huge salary in Tinseltown. Metro hasn't yet decided on a picture for her.

TIME FLEES Dept: 23 year old Morris Brooks, son of Chester Morris, has flown a hundred missions in Korea. . . . Remember all the fuss kicked up last year when the Women's Press club bestowed its "most UNco-operative actress" award upon Esther Williams? Well, the grapevine says she's likely to win it again! . . . A chum opines, "A boy is at the awkward age when he knows why a strapless dress is help up—but doesn't know how!" . . . Tab Hunter, who's won Photoplay's "Star of Tomorrow" poll, has been tabbed by Eddie Small for the lead in "John Rango." On account of Hunter is hot-stuff on horses. A national mag. just did a layout of him aboard a champion jumper. There was much giggling over the fact that Zsa Zsa Gabor was somewhere on Photoplay's "new starlet" list. Dear Zsa Zsa has been trying for a break here high onto fifteen years! . . . An old flicker, "Suspense" is making video rounds. With Barry Sullivan being plenty sexy in same. Makes us wonder why stardom, now within his grasp, was so long coming Barry's way.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

WHEN DAVID and Danny were 6 and 7, the following incident occurred.

They relish each other's company so much that each feels lost when the other is away.

But despite their great fondness for each other, they tussle and wrestle, or come to blows at frequent intervals.

But children soon forget their grudges, so the sun shines soon after the storm has struck.

"Tip-toe into the hall and look at them in the tub," Mrs. Crane whispered to me at the dinner table.

"It's just too bad we can't have a movie of them now."

So I sneaked into the hall and saw them. They had the rubber tube from the shower—sorry.

They put some water in the tub. Then each started blowing at his end of the line, hoping that the other would croak exhausted first.

IN THAT EVENT, the exhausted boy got a spray of water blown in his face. They giggled and had so much fun, that Mrs. Crane let them stall around for an extra 15 minutes.

Then we heard a thump, and Danny let out a yell. Apparently he bumped his head on the tub, possibly with the aid of a push from David.

"David made me hurt my head!" he exclaimed, quickly protecting the blame on the other party.

He whined for a couple of minutes; then all was peaceful again.

Before they got into their beds, however, they started playing tag and almost got into another spat over which should have the last tag.

So it goes in the Crane household. Judy and George and Philip would often join in the melee. It usually sounded like bedlam.

IF YOU DON'T give your youngster such interstimulation between himself and other children, you are likely to stunt his personality development.

For children what each other's wits, as William James so aptly explained a generation ago.

Children also socialize each other and produce far more athletic exercise in a youngster than he would procure from an all-adult milieu.

This in turn pops up the child's appetite. Besides, the act of eating becomes somewhat of a social affair.

So don't cheat your children out of brothers and sisters by the rationalized argument that you cannot afford more youngsters.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Coals to Newcastle . . .

How Band Started . . .

* TFA—Mrs. George H. . . . land road, Pennsburg RD 1, was moved to action by a news-story in The Mercury several months ago about an Englishman, Oswald Beard, of St. Annes-On-Sea, Lancashire, who has lived for 12 years on virtually nothing but tea. Beard, it seemed was having a hard time getting enough tea to make 62 cups a day, his regular ration. Since seeing this story, Mrs. Rickers reported, "I have sent him a pound of tea a month and we have become very well acquainted. He with my family and I with his." Mrs. Rickers also tried to interest a large tea company in Beard's problem but with no success.

BAND'S START—The good-old-days photograph of the old Birchrunville cornet band published in The Mercury a few days ago stirred memories for Chester Miller, Pottstown RD 1, near Kenilworth. In 1912, he recalled, he was picking cherries in a tree and taking part in a discussion on band music with Joshua Francis, who was to become his father-in-law; John Quay, Miller's step-father, and Granville Miller, a brother. (All three have died since). Miller said he called down, "Why don't you start a band around here?" This chance remark proved to be the seed from which the band grew and prospered for more than six years. Ironically, Miller, who made the original suggestion, tried to become a band player—on the alto horn—but found that it wasn't his line. "It was in here," he said, tapping his head, "but I couldn't get it out."

* SANTA'S HELPERS—So you think Christmas is far away? Junior Service league members don't! They're beginning now to collect, repair and repaint toys that'll gladden the hearts of underprivileged children. The group annually collects toys, refurbishes them, then turns them over to welfare groups for distribution. This year the Pottstown girls are working in the old Snyder home at High and Bailey streets every night. They were given use of the home by the Good Will fire company. They ask if you have any toys you'd like to see kiddies get, bring them to the Snyder home any night. Place them on the front porch, if nobody's around. Or, if you want, call Mrs. John Lloyd, Pughtown 3116, or Mrs. Harry Green, Pottstown 2626-R. They'll pick up your toys.

IT'S LILAC TIME—It may have been cold for the past couple of weeks but that didn't stop purple lilacs and honeysuckle from blooming out of season at the Gibraltar home of Mrs. Elmer Heimbach, 359 North Washington street. The lilacs in full bloom on top of a small hill at the country home normally blossom in May. Mrs. Irvin Swede, 504 May street, mother of Mrs. Heimbach, was along with her daughter to see the unusual sight. . . . Maybe you heard of the man who walked in a restaurant, handed the waiter two vitamin pills, and asked him to dissolve them in a bowl of clam chowder. After a long interval he asked why he hadn't been served. "You'll get your soup sir," the waiter said, "as soon as we can get the clams to lie down."

* MOVERS—Charles M. Knisley, new manager of Metropolitan Life Insurance company's Pottstown office, has bought the 2½-story brick home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Richards, Brethren Church road, Pottstown RD 1. Knisley, who came here from Lebanon, plans to move his family into the home by Dec. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Knisley have two children, James Knisley, 7, and Robert Knisley, 17. The older son will finish out the school term in Lebanon, where he is co-captain of the football team. Mr. and Mrs. Richards plans to build in the Spring, find an apartment meanwhile. Richards is a tool grinder for Doehler-Jarvis corporation. The sale was handled by Richard H. Thompson, of the Robert H. DeLong real estate agency.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

WITH PRESENT-DAY vaccination and immunization procedures, there is no excuse when a child gets whooping cough.

Children should be given injections to prevent this disease at an early age, and sufficient booster injections in later life. This is enough to make most children immune to the disease, and the parents need not worry.

Whooping cough still occurs, however, because many parents are negligent in having their children receive the necessary vaccinations. I am afraid that parents often act this way because they have heard so much about the new drugs, and how effective they are in treating whooping cough.

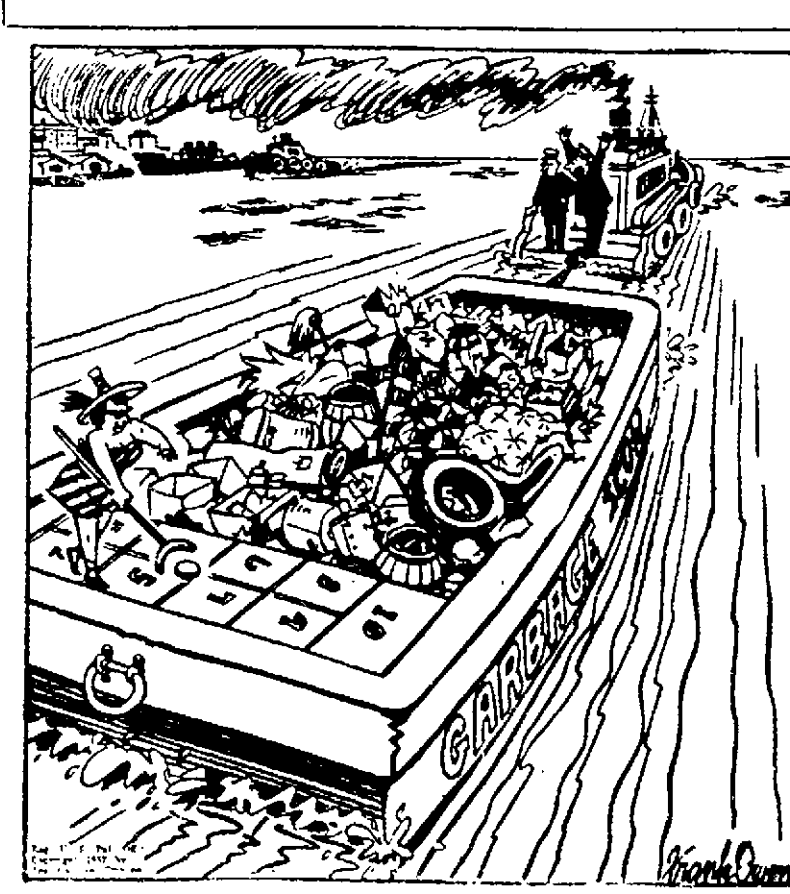

In young infants, however, whooping cough is still a major cause of death. It also leaves many complications that may remain for years in older children.

At the start of a whooping cough attack a child usually begins sneezing, then develops a cough which is severe and more or less explosive. As the cough ends, the child sucks in air with some force, and this gives a crowing or whooping sound.

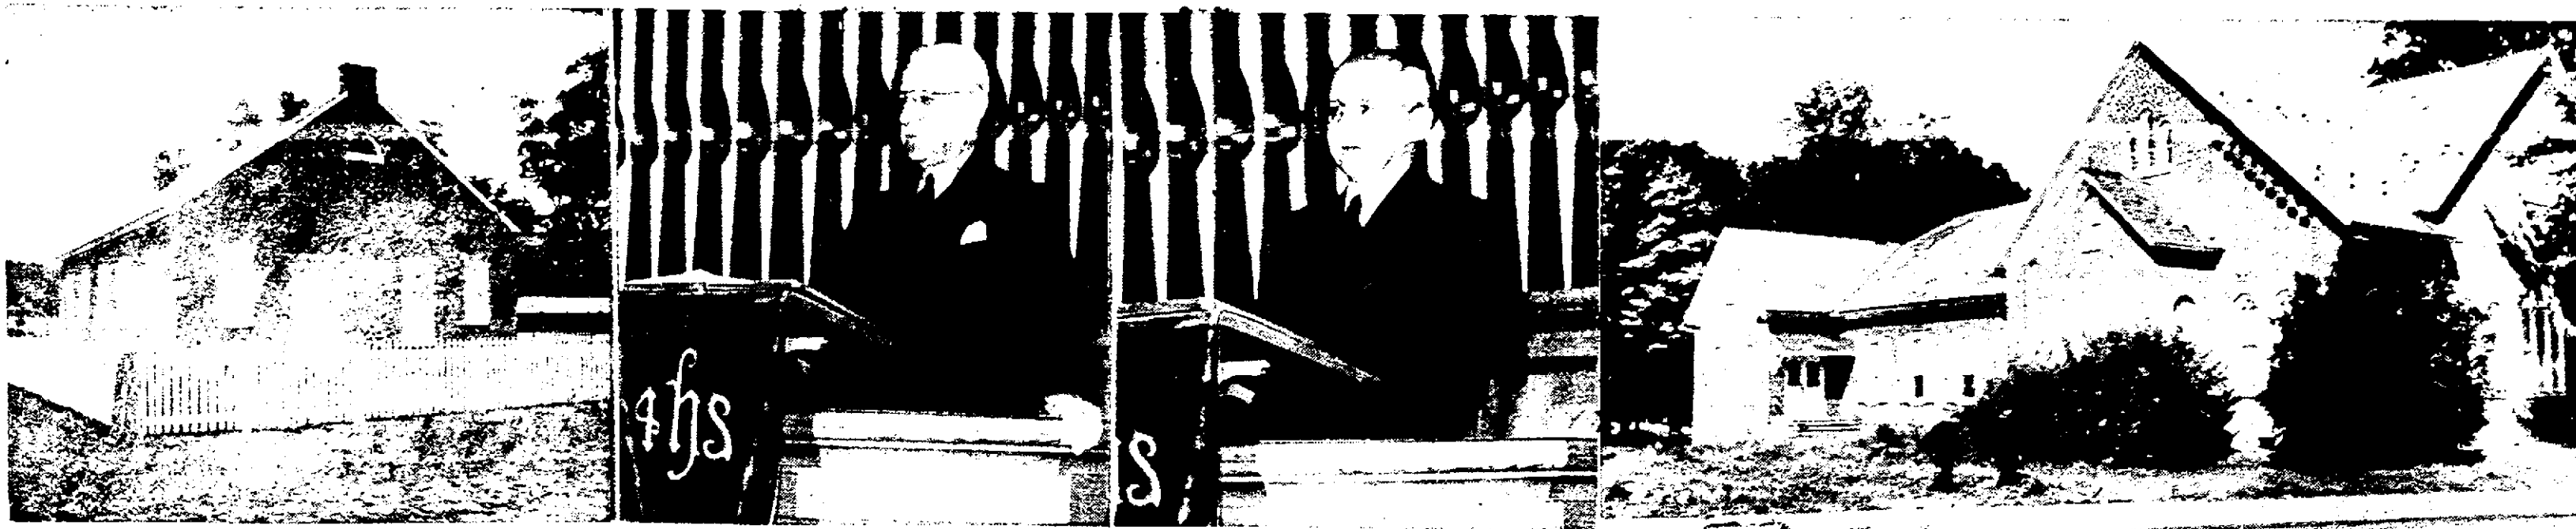

After pulling through whooping cough, many children are left with a chronic bronchitis, or infection of the lungs. It is also reported that in some cases the disease produces definite changes in the nervous system. These changes can leave a child permanently paralyzed, or with other nervous disorders.

For this reason new drugs for whooping cough cannot take the place of immunizing all young infants against the disease. Inoculations may begin as early as the third month, and this is the right age to give them in areas where children are likely to come in contact with the infection.

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By IRV ROLLMAN

WHEN HE TOOK THE JOB AS BOROUGH ASSESSOR THE PAST June, people told Horace Y. Seidel, Beech street at Morris, that he was taking over a rough job and that it wouldn't be long until he found that he didn't like it. But Seidel has found, to his own satisfaction, that the job is one in which he is doing the things he likes and that the persons he meets in the course of his duties are some of the nicest people he has ever met. "After only a couple months," he says, "I find that I enjoy the work very much. And I feel that I have yet to meet a person in connection with the job with whom I can't get along. And that's considering that people do not enjoy paying taxes."

Seidel is the man at Borough hall who is the determining factor in the amount of tax that property owners must pay. It is because of the work he does that the borough and school district realize sufficient operating funds to carry on their work each year. School and borough taxes are based on the assessment values set by Seidel's office.

Seidel was appointed single borough assessor the past May. His appointment spelled the end of the old-fashioned parttime system with an assessor in each of the borough's ten wards. His office is under the supervision of Montgomery county which appoints local assessors, and is located on the second floor of borough hall next door to the draft board.

A native of Berks county, Seidel has a varied background which ranges from personnel administration to muleskinning. He was born in Gibraltar on June 8, 1896. His family moved to Pottstown when he was 1 year old and remained there until he was 12, at which time they moved back to the "homestead" that was deeded to Seidel's forefathers by William Penn. Seidel attended Birdsboro High school for two years and walked a distance of three miles each way to go to school each day.

At 18, Seidel returned to Pottstown where he attended Pottstown Business college. Following school he got a job as clerk at Falls of French creek iron mine, one of the last to close in this area. He remained on this job until 1916 when he enlisted into the Army.

Seidel served overseas with the Army Medical corps. Most of his time was spent driving ambulances which were pulled by mules. He had had experience with mules on his father's farm and knew how to handle the stubborn animals. His company, however was one of the first to become motorized. During his tour of duty in World War I, Seidel's company received several citations, one of them for their part in the evacuation of the unit which later became known as the "Lost Battalion."

Returning home in 1918, Seidel went to work in the family's crucible-manufacturing plant in Philadelphia. Following the closing of the plant, he worked as a salesman for Swift and company and in 1924 joined the staff at Spicer's. While at Spicer's, Seidel studied nights at Temple university night school and soon climbed into the ranks of the company's personnel administrators. He held an executive position at that company for 28 years prior to his retirement and appointment as full-time borough assessor.

When he can get away from work Seidel likes to go fishing. Fresh-water fishing is his specialty. He likes dry fly and wet fly fishing and also fishes with live bait. Although he has never been seasick, Seidel says he does not care for deep-sea fishing. Nor does he care for hunting.

Seidel's activities have been many. His career includes serving as Republican councilman from the Ninth ward serving as chairman of the Planning and Zoning commission since its founding five years ago, a past commander of the George A. Ample post of the American Legion and former member of the council of Transfiguration Lutheran church.

But his two big activities have been serving as president of the Family Welfare Society for nearly 36 years and he has been a longtime member of the Christmas Seal Sale committee of the Pottstown Tuberculosis society. These two groups have taken up the greater part of Seidel's time.

WHEN HE TOOK UP THE TUBA IN JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL, Charles J. Simmons, 397 Franklin street, had no idea where it would lead him. The band needed a tuba-player, Simmons wanted to play the tuba, so the two of them got together and they have been that way for about 27 years.

Simmons' regular job is carrying mail. He has worked for the post office for the past 16 years and following his appointment as a regular carrier, he has had the same route in the North End for about nine years. Before getting the route, Simmons had to serve as a substitute carrier for almost seven years. But since 1944 he has covered the same trail each day and neither rain nor hail nor sleet has deterred him.

"After nine years on the same route," Simmons observes, "I've gotten to know everybody on the route including the cats and dogs. And everybody knows me."

Simmons began his musical career when he was in the Pottstown Junior High school. The boys' and girls' band, under the direction of Frank Schatz, found itself without a tuba player. The band had the tuba, but no one to manipulate it. Someone told Simmons about it and the future musician approached the director and finally took the horn home with him.

For the next 30 days, Simmons took a lesson each day from Schatz. Then, a tuba fledgling, he took his place with the band and played the rest of their engagements. At that time the band practiced on the second floor over Levensood's dairy. After five years with the youthful musicians, Simmons left to become a member of the Pottstown band, and he took his tuba with him.

For the past 22 years he has played tuba with the Pottstown band. Simmons has played every job the band has had in the time he has been with it with the exception of about five. Some of the jobs have taken him out of the State, while others have been at special occasions marking historic as well as civic events.

In 1924 Simmons marched with the Pottstown band in a parade during the celebration of the Reading bicentennial. In that parade the band marched for the Montgomery Fire company of Norristown. The band also marched in several other parades, but as Simmons points out, the fellows in the band do not care much for parading.

To illustrate this, he recalled a parade in Emmaus some time ago. During that parade the weather decided not to co-operate with the event and the marchers were drenched in a downpour. Even though they marched in pouring rain, Pottstown band won first place, but it didn't make the bandmen like parading any more.

"I don't care for parades too much myself," Simmons says. "I find that hugging that tuba around on a long march is too much like a mailman's holiday."

Simmons was born in Limerick township on Nov. 5, 1913. He attended schools in Pottstown and was graduated from the High school here in 1931. Following High school, Simmons took a job in Lamb's Music store. His main job was bookkeeping, but it did not stop at that.

In 1937 Simmons began working as a substitute mailcarrier with the post office. For the next seven years Simmons worked as a substitute until his appointment as a regular carrier came through in 1944. During this time, Simmons spent his evenings with the band. It was during a concert at Goshenhoppen park in East Greenville that one of the members of the band introduced Simmons to Eva Shoemaker of Pottstown. They dated and in 1940 Simmons married her. The couple have three children; Robert, 12, Karen, 4, and Nancy, 3.

Scout Task Force To Get Out the Vote In Pottstown Area

More than 1100 Cub Scouts and Explorer Scouts of the Continental district of the Valley Forge council will take part next month in the "Get Out the Vote" campaign in the Pottstown area sponsored by the Freedoms Foundation.

The boys from the council covering Delaware and Montgomery counties will call on about 20,000 homes in the area on Nov. 1 and place Liberty Bell cutouts on the doors reminding the residents to vote. In the two counties more than 170,000 homes will be visited.

The program is part of a national non-partisan campaign by the scouts. About 30,000,000 homes will be contacted throughout the nation.

Locally, the campaign began about four months ago when scouts distributed posters for public display urging citizens to register in order to be eligible to vote in the November elections. A total of 300 posters were distributed in the area.

John B. Hartenstein Jr., chairman of the campaign, in the Continental district, said he believes that the Liberty Bell message distribution by the scouts is the largest single project of its kind ever undertaken in the nation.

The only other comparable mass scout project was in 1934 when the Boy Scouts were mobilized by President Franklin D. Roosevelt to "do the nation a good turn."

Within a short time, Scouts had collected 1,812,384 items of clothing, food and household items for needy families.

CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

Annie Berkay and John H. Latshaw, deacon emeritus.

In connection with the centennial, church members compiled a history of Mennonites in the Bally section.

The first two resident ministers there among Mennonites were George Rechtel and Peter Moll. Both men died the same day, March 19, 1759.

The separation within the Franconia Conference of Mennonites in 1847 brought a division of the Bally congregation. Members who formed a new group, known as Hereford Mennonite church, built the first meeting house in 1852, the main church in 1897 and the Sunday school addition in 1933.

AT THE 10 a. m. service, a German hymn will be sung by a group from the congregation. The choir will sing an anthem. Dr. Johnson's topic will be "The Ever-Expanding Church."

At the evening service Robert Rosenberger, church organist, will give an organ recital at 7:15 from Bluffton college. Bluffton, O'Clock, Carol Ann Shelly will play a violin solo. Margaret and Richard Gressman will play a piano and organ duet, and the Witmarsum Theological seminary choir will sing an anthem.

Dr. Johnson, minister from 1921 to 1947, had a longer tenure than any other minister of the church with the exception of Christian Clemmer, minister from 1842 to 1883. The deacon-emeritus held the post of deacon from 1924 to 1947. The Rev. Shelly has been pastor of Hereford Mennonite church, Bally, for the past five years, coming there after having been Mennonite pastor in Wadsworth, Ohio, and then Topeka, Kan.

For two years, until the past May, he was president of the church's Eastern District conference, which comprises Eastern Pennsylvania.

A native of Emmaus, he was graduated in 1915 from Perkiomen school, Pottstown, and in 1921 from Bluffton college, Bluffton, Ohio, where he majored in the play a violin solo. Margaret and Richard Gressman will play a piano and organ duet, and the Witmarsum Theological seminary choir will sing an anthem.

found, the case would be formally re-opened, he asserted.

Mrs. Morton relayed her report to Sgt. Harold E. Hahn at borough hall a few hours after she got the report the past Friday night. Sgt. Hahn took notes on her statement for Borgiet's possible use.

The plainclothesman said Prutzman last was reported seen alive on Wednesday night, Sept. 11. This, he noted, checked with physicians' estimates that Prutzman's body had been in the water for two days.

His body was found in a dam-like part of the mill race, which supplies power for Pottstown Roy-Yocom, tickets; and Edward Schefler Mills, South Hanover and South fey, kitchen.

Representing the union were Joseph Pickard, international representative; Matz; Raymond L. Wilkinson, Local 2325 vice president; Joseph E. Johnson, chief shop steward at the metal products plant; and George Molto, Michael Brunner and Felix Howdski, members of the grievance committee at the plant.

Members of the Flagg local last night voted $40 to the Pottstown Rose society for its community rose garden on the grounds of Memorial hospital.

The first roses will be planted this Fall and others will be added to the garden next Spring.

The union voted to support the $750,000 street improvement bond issue which will be placed before the electorate at the Nov. 4 election.

Council Monday night passed an ordinance which established the plans and policies of the ordinance.

It was reported union dues were increased $1 per month on Oct. 1 and the union and company are awaiting Federal approval of the 10-cent hourly increase and fringe benefits negotiated by the Flagg employees in their new contract.

The meeting was held in the CIO hall, 364 King street. Vice President Wilkinson was in charge.

Red Cross to Give Gray Ladies Course

An instructional course for Gray Ladies will be given today at the Memorial hospital Nurses home.

H. L. Christman, chairman of the board of directors of the northern branch, Southeastern Pennsylvania chapter, American Red Cross, made the announcement at a meeting of the board yesterday at the Brookside Country club.

The one-day orientation course, which includes lectures and demonstrations by Red Cross personnel from Philadelphia, begins at 10:30 a. m. and continues until 4 p. m.

Christman said that persons interested in joining the course can still apply before 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Board member Mrs. Robert P. Smith announced that the Pottstown Red Cross chapter will hold a Square Dance Friday evening for patients at the Valley Forge Army hospital. Shorty Long and his Sante Fe Rangers will provide music for the dance, she said.

Fine Calls 'Alienism' Threat to National Life

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14 (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine today called for unity of all Americans to fight any threats to "our religious as well as our national life."

"It is only by unity, by a cohesive effort of true Americanism untainted by any alienism, that we will overcome our would-be oppressors of this age," Fine said in an address prepared for the 36th annual convention of the National Association of Mutual Insurance companies.

"This is the time to fight—not a time for vague words, confusion, and a pseudo-idealism—but a time to do battle for clarity, forthrightness, and for the American traditions," Fine said.
